PLEADS RIGHT OF FEDERAL CONTROL

President Insists That Constitutional Power Shall Be Applied to New Corporate Conditions.

ROOSEVELT IN DRENCHING RAIN AT ST. LOUIS

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 2.—Welcomed by screaming whistles, clanging bells, bursting bombs and the huzzahs from thousands of human throats, President Roosevelt landed at St. Louis at 9:47 o'clock this morning, marking the first stop on his voyage down the Mississippi river from Keokuk, Iowa, to Memphis, Tenn., where he will attend the Lakes-to-Gulf Deep WaterWays association convention Friday.

The cruise is the president's active response to a general invitation from the governors of the states along the Mississippi river, believing he would be impressed with the enormous waste of freight carrying energy that will exert powerful influence in favor of committing the government to act with definite and larger spirit toward deepening the great inland channels for navigation by ocean going craft.

Noisy Din of Welcome.

The entrance of the steamer Mississippi bearing the president, was announced by the firing of bombs and blowing of whistles. Tens of thousands of persons lined both shores of the river and across Eads bridge, the main viewpoint, stretched a chain of humanity, solidly packed from the Illinois to the Missouri side.

With the stateliness of a naval review the escorting steamboats maintained their line of procession and swept along to the point of landing, at the foot of Olive street, where they halted. The Mississippi steamed on down to the end of the course and then returned, plowing slowly upstream to effect a landing. As President Roosevelt stepped ashore he was welcomed by fifteen governors from various states, congressmen and city dignitaries.

The morning had dawned bright and clear, but clouds began to gather. Efforts were made to rush the program along because of the threatening weather. The line of procession was quickly formed for the drive to the Jai Alai building in the western portion of the city, five miles from the river where the president was to deliver his speech. A cordon of mounted police led the way, then a company of United States cavalry and the president's carriage containing also Mayor Wells, and three secret service men. Following came twenty-two carriages, bearing the visiting governors and other dignitaries, with a military band and two companies of infantry from Jefferson barracks bringing up the rear.

In a Drenching Rain.

By the time the procession had proceeded eight blocks a heavy rain began and the president and his welcoming host were instantly drenched. The horses were whipped up and regardless of processional formation the president was hurried to the Jai Alai building.

Notwithstanding that President Roosevelt was caught in the rain while standing in the open carriage bowing to the multitude, he proceeded straight to the building and went through the program in his wet clothes. Mayor Wells whose raiment was also considerably dampened, introduced Governor Folk, of Missouri, who in turn made a brief speech presenting President Roosevelt.

Progress on the Canal.

At the first mention of President Roosevelt's name ten thousand people spontaneously sprang to their feet and began waving flags as they voiced their greeting by the full use of their lungs. The ovation continued for full three minutes.

President Roosevelt stepped to the front of the platform and the minute he began to talk the cheering again arose, but it was of brief duration. With a broad smile the president waited a moment until quiet had been restored and then began the delivery of his address.

Ten Thousand Cheered.

In the opening portion of his address the president deplored the decadence of inland water transportation and expressed the belief that there would be a revival along this line. He expressed the belief that it is desirable for the nation to join

ROWDY CUTS CANVAS ROPES.

Liquor Sympathizer at Warsaw Objects to Stereopticon Views.

Warsaw, Ind., Oct. 2. While the Rev. E. S. Shoemaker, of Indianapolis, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, was delivering an illustrated lecture before 1,000 people on the streets in the business district last night, some one cut the ropes holding the canvas upon which the stereopticon pictures were being thrown.

While the Rev. Mr. Shumaker was making repairs the Rev. Mr. Hicks, superintendent of the South Bend district of the Anti-Saloon league, took the platform and predicted that within another year nearly every township in Indiana will be dry, that Kosciusko county will be rid of saloons in a few months. He severely criticised the Warsaw saloonkeepers who have declared that they will spend thousands of dollars to defeat a remonstrance in the First ward of this city.

WOMAN SHOWS FIGHT AND POLICE HAVE A BATTLE

Attempts to Get Revolver But Officers Beat Her To It.

Mrs. Mary Ives gave Detective Lenz and Patrolman Spillner a desperate fight when they attempted to arrest her today in rooms over the Bossler and Truechet saloon at 1324 South Calhoun street and when she saw that the officers were determined to take her she attempted to get a revolver in one of the drawers of her dresser, but the officers beat her to it.

She said afterward she did not intend to shoot the officers, but would have put an end to her own life had she secured possession of the weapon. She was only partially dressed at the time and refused to put on her clothes until she was told she would be taken without them and when she saw further resistance was useless she consented to dress and accompany the men.

In connection with her arrest J. Earl Wheeler, of Greenville, Pa., was also taken into custody for wife desertion at the request of George Wheeler, his brother. Both were charged at headquarters with specific immorality and a charge of resisting arrest may also be put against the woman.

Wheeler is a carpenter and he and the woman have been living here for three or four months as husband and wife. His brother went to police headquarters this morning and gave a description of the pair and Patrolman Spillner, who had seen the woman when he visited the rooms above the saloon in the investigation of another case, recognized her from the description given him.

The man was found in the saloon and submitted to arrest without any questions. When the officers went upstairs, however, they were given a battle and although they tried to avoid injuring the woman she made such a strong fight that they were forced to handle her roughly to get her to consent to go to headquarters. She is a large woman and knows how to take care of herself in a scrimmage.

BAR PAYS TRIBUTE TO MEMORY OF LATE MEMBER

Meeting Held and Resolutions Adopted by Attorneys—Court.

In honor of the memory of the late Daniel Ryan, a former justice of the peace and attorney, the Allen County Bar association held a meeting in the circuit court room today at which glowing tributes of respect were paid to the deceased by Henry Colerick, Judge Allen Zollars, W. P. Breen, James B. Harper and A. H. Bittinger.

All of them had been associated with him in the practice of the law and each and every one stated that he had always found him a man of excellent judgment, strictly honest in the administration of his duties as a justice and a good friend and adviser. There was a big attendance of the members of the association and all signified their intention of attending the funeral tomorrow morning.

A resolutions committee consisting of Judge Allen Zollars, Henry Colerick, J. B. Harper, A. H. Bittinger and Judge O. N. Heaton was appointed and W. H. Shambaugh was selected to see that a copy is inscribed on the records of the circuit court, and Mr. Breen will perform the same duty in relation to the superior court records.

Case is Postponed.

The suit of Clara L. Carnahan against Mary M. and Nicholas Bellng was postponed in the superior court today until Nov. 12. Mrs. Carnahan is trying to get possession of real estate upon which the Bellings own a house, claiming that it was reserved when it was transferred several years ago.

FORT WAYNE COMPANY WINS SUIT AT CINCINNATI

Horton Manufacturing Company Gets Damages for Infringement.

The big infringement suit brought by the Horton Manufacturing company of this city against Conrad Dietz, doing business as the Boss Washing Machine company at Cincinnati, has just been decided in favor of the Fort Wayne company by the United States court at Cincinnati.

News of the decision came today to Chapin & Denny, who represented the Horton company in the case. W. P. Denny, of the firm of patent attorneys, argued this case twice at Washington and again at Cincinnati for the Horton company, and he also submitted a brief of something like two hundred pages sustaining the contentions of the Fort Wayne company that its rights were being infringed.

The case has been desperately fought at every step, as the parties to the suit are rivals in the same field and are two of the leading washing machine manufacturers in the United States. Mr. Denny will at once go to Cincinnati to have the decree entered and take an accounting for damages, which, it is said, may amount to as much as $20,000.

SENATOR BORAH ON STAND IN OWN DEFENSE

Court Denies Motion for Instructed Verdict of Acquittal.

Boise, Idaho, Oct. 2.—The trial of Senator Borah continued today, Judge Whitson refusing the motion of the defense for an instructed verdict of not guilty. Senator Borah took the stand as the first witness in his own behalf.

The motion for acquittal was submitted yesterday by attorneys for the defendant on the grounds that no evidence tending to connect Senator Borah with a land fraud conspiracy had been adduced.

The motion was argued at length by Special Prosecutors Rush and Burch and by James N. Hawley, of the defense. Senator Borah's counsel waived the opening argument on the motion and Mr. Hawley declared he would not have spoken at all had it not seemed to him that the government counsel had each intentionally or unwittingly misinterpreted much of the testimony before the court. The jury was not present during the argument.

Mr. Rush, in opening the argument for the government, said that there had certainly been tangible evidence of a conspiracy on the part of a few persons at least, and in this view Judge Whitson said he coincided. The evidence against Senator Borah was circumstantial.

Mr. Rush admitted this, but insisted that it tended to show that the defendant acted in concert with the other alleged conspirators to the extent, at least, of receiving in his office the deeds resulting from fraud and having these deeds recorded at his request. This act of the defendant, Mr. Rush asserted, placed him in the light of one who receives stolen property and required an explanation.

Mr. Borah argued that an attorney had no privileges above the ordinary citizen.

Borah on Witness Stand.

Senator Borah said he had been a personal friend of former Governor Steunenberg for years prior to the governor's death but never was employed as his attorney. He became general counsel for the Barber Lumber company in 1903. As to deeds going through his office Senator Borah said that 339 deeds had been so recorded. He had nothing to do with any of the purchases, many of which were made long before he became attorney for the company.

His inquiry as to why the lands had been taken in the names of Rand, Long and others brought forward by the governor as "dummy" trustees, Senator Borah said this was answered by the company officers to the effect that if it came known a corporation was in the field, the price of lands would have been doubled. "I never prepared a deed for any entryman or trustee," said Senator Borah. "I do not and never did own a dollar's worth of stock in the Barber Lumber company. My compensation has always been a fixed salary and I never had any contingent fee or interest whatsoever."

At the conclusion of Borah's testimony the defense rested.

COTTON PRICES BROKE.

New York, Oct. 2.—Publication of government reports on cotton were followed by a break of 27 to 29 points or upwards of $1.25 a bale in the price of cotton options of the active months on the New York cotton exchange. Most of the options reached new low record prices for the year. The decline was due to the fact that the condition of the crop was shown to be better than traders had expected.

ALLEGE BOSS RULE; DECLINE PLACES ON TICKET

Nine Democratic Nominees at Cincinnati Spring Big Sensation.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Oct. 2.—A political sensation of more than local interest was the announcement today that nine of the twenty-one candidates named yesterday at the democratic municipal convention had decided to refuse to accept the places given them on the ticket.

Vice Mayor Pfaff, Auditor Culkins and Treasurer Weller, who had been honored with a renomination for the places they now fill, headed the list of declinations, the others including four candidates for council at large and two for the board of public service.

The reason given is that the methods that controlled the selection of delegates to the convention were too autocratic and that there was too much of "boss rule" in the convention for officials who had two years ago been elected in a campaign against such methods and control.

ONCE WEALTHY MAN, HE DIED IN UTTER POVERTY

It is said that just before his death he was seeking employment by the day, though at one time he enjoyed an income of about $200,000 a year.

Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 2.—The board of education of Syracuse, Meigs county, reported today to State School Commissioner Jones that the teachers employed there are out on a strike.

The law requires that teachers shall be paid not less than forty dollars a month, but the board of education of Syracuse having made a maximum school levy of twelve mills finds itself unable to pay more than $25 a month.

Although the teachers accepted their positions with this amount of money in sight, they now refuse to perform the work unless the board pays the legal salary.

ROBBERS DYNAMITE TRAIN.

Explosion Sets Fire to Cars and Passengers Were Burned.

Odessa, Oct. 2.—A train having on board more than 200 passengers was held up last night by a band of robbers, who opened the mail car by exploding dynamite. The explosion set the car on fire and the flames communicated to a crowded passenger car, with the result that several women and children were badly burned before they could escape.

While the robbers were trying to blow open the safe in the mail car they were attacked by gendarmes. Several on both sides were wounded, but the robbers escaped.

MRS. LEW WALLACE DIES AFTER EXTENDED ILLNESS

Widow Did Not Long Survive Distinguished Husband.

Crawfordsville, Ind., Oct. 2.—Mrs. Susan E. Wallace, widow of General Lew Wallace, died last night. She had great literary abilities and assisted her distinguished husband in his writings.

Mrs. Wallace's health has been failing for many months, and a week or more ago it was announced that her condition had become grave. The death of General Wallace was a blow from which the widow was unable to revive, and this fact undoubtedly hastened her own demise.

The end was calm and peaceful. The members of her immediate family and the two nurses were with her when the end came. She would have been 77 years old had she lived until next Christmas day.

Although definite arrangements for the funeral have not been made the service will be held at the Wallace home in this city some time Friday. Mrs. Wallace will be buried in Oakhill cemetery near Crawfordsville, beside her distinguished husband.

Mrs. Wallace's illness dates back to last June when she suffered an attack of pneumonia.

Mrs. Wallace's maiden name was Susan Elston. She was the fourth child of Col. and Mrs. Isaac L. Elston, pioneer residents of Crawfordsville.

I may give out a written statement later in the day."

Mrs. Jennie Gentry, who is also indicted, lives with her mother in the Merrick lodge building. She branded as false the statements that she, with Powers, Rogerson and Attorney Benton, entered into a conspiracy to fasten the killing of Goebel on Henry Youtsey.

GARRETT DAMAGE CASE TO BE TRIED IN FORT WAYNE

Accidental Death is Basis of Suit—Other News from DeKalb.

[Special to The Sentinel.]

Garrett, Ind., Oct. 2.—In the superior court at Fort Wayne on Tuesday of next week an important law case, one in which there will be some interesting legal questions under discussion and in which Garrett parties will figure, will come up for trial. It is the case of George Schulthess vs. the Toledo & Chicago Interurban Railroad company, in which the plaintiff demands damages in the sum of $5,000 from the interurban company for having been the cause of the death of his son, Frederick Schulthess. The facts in the case, briefly stated, are as follows: Some time during last November the son, Frederick Schulthess, a boy of eight years of age, was run over by a handcar of the T. & C. road on King street, near the interurban depot in this city, and killed. With some other boys, the Schulthess lad was playing around the depot. On the tracks near by there was a handcar, left standing there by some of the workmen of the company while they were attending to some other duties. The boys got on the car and were playing with it, running it back and forth on the tracks. While doing so young Schulthess was thrown off and run over by the car, resulting in his death.

Alleging that the interurban company was negligent in allowing the car to stand unlocked on the track, the father of the dead lad brought suit against the company for damages for having caused the death. The attorneys in the case are Mountz & Brinkerhoff, of Garrett, for the plaintiff, and F. L. Welshelmer, of Auburn, for the defendant.

CONDUCTOR TOM KINNEY

Unsuccessful in Attempt to Suicide at Chicago Junction.

Garrett, Ind., Oct. 2.—It was reported here in Garrett last Saturday night that Thomas Kinney, at one time a resident of this city, and an old and well known conductor on the B. & O., had committed suicide at his home in Chicago Junction. Mr. Kinney did attempt to suicide, but he was unsuccessful in putting an end to his life. The report from Chicago Junction is that he is still living. He took strychnine with suicidal intent, but the doctors and a stomach pump saved his life and he has recovered from the effects of the drug.

The cause of his rash act was drink. For a number of years he was one of the best employes of the B. & O. Through his intemperate habits he lost his position as conductor on the road and some twelve or fourteen years ago went to Chicago Junction, where he followed the occupation of a painter. He is 65 years of age. While living in Garrett he had a wide circle of friends and was well liked.

SAY HORSE WAS DRUGGED.

The Reason "Billy Foster" Lost the Big Race at Kendallville.

Garrett, Ind., Oct. 2.—The noted race horse, "Billy Foster," owned by Frank Kircher and M. H. Sweeney, of this city, which has won so many purses in different parts of the country, was brought here Tuesday from Kendallville, where during the fair he paced a losing race, and was today shipped to Hillsdale, Mich., where he goes in a race on Thursday. At Kendallville on Monday he went in an exhibition pace and made a mile in 2:11 easily, showing no effects of the injuries received at Wheeling. The owners say that the reason he lost at Kendallville in the big fair race was that he had been tampered with, drugged, in other words, and they profess to know who practiced this foul play.

Auburn Expects Crowds.

Auburn, Ind., Oct. 2.—The free fall exhibit of DeKalb county products, which is to be held here next week, it is expected, will bring to Auburn big crowds of people. The event is in the nature of a county fair. The exhibition, instead of being held on the fair grounds, is on the streets of the city, in the business center, the thoroughfares around the court house being mostly used. It is intended to show the products of DeKalb county, both in the agricultural and manufacturing lines, and prizes will be awarded. In connection with it there will also be held what is called a "home coming" meeting, in which all the former residents of the county, those now living in other cities, will be welcomed. This, it is thought, will be one of the most interesting features of the week.

New County Infirmary.

Auburn, Ind., Oct. 2.—The board of commissioners of DeKalb county is actively engaged in making preparations for the building of a new county infirmary. The commissioners have returned from a trip of several counties in the state, where they inspected county infirmaries with a view of getting the best plans for the new building. They were accompanied by Architect Griffith, of Fort Wayne. The new infirmary is badly needed, as the present building is a dilapidated structure, unfit for the inmates.

Will Be Given a Pension.

Garrett, Ind., Oct. 2.—The veteran engineer, George Ward, of this city, who has been in the continuous service of the B. & O. railroad for forty-five years, will in a few days be placed on the retired and pension list, receiving $60 a month from the company for the rest of his life. He has been in the east visiting the Atlantic coast cities for the last several weeks.

Making a Sincerity Suit

TALK VI.

Putting a Suit Together

IN my fourth talk I left the cut fabrics, linings and stiffenings in bundles, each bundle containing all the parts for one suit, and followed that talk last Sunday by a description of one of the factories where these bundles are sent for assembling or sewing together into suits.

AS these bundles arrive at the factory they are checked up by an inspector. Each bundle is then given to one of a long line of operators who does nothing but one thing. For instance, one operator will baste linings, another will make and reinforce pockets, others sew buttons and so on throughout the entire making of the suit. As each man finishes his particular work on a garment it is passed on by an inspector and if satisfactory is handed to the next operator to have another step of its construction finished.

EACH set of operators has an inspector over it and all work from his "line" must be perfect or it is sent back, ripped apart and made over, where possible, otherwise it is destroyed.

THE perfect system and speed of the SINCERITY factory is no more amazing, to the layman, than is the wonderful forethot shown in the reinforcing of every possible weak spot in a coat. Shoulders are canvased and padded, lapels are reinforced with the best hair cloth and canvas, pockets are taped so as not to sag and are reinforced against ripping, and collars are felled with the best stitched canvas. All this stitching is done with silk and THERE IS NOT A STEP UNTAKEN BY THE SINCERITY CLOTHES MAKERS WHICH MIGHT ADD TO THE HONESTY OF THE MAKING OF THEIR CLOTHING.

(Next Wednesday I will go further into the "Making of a Suit" and explain what is really meant by "Hand Tailored Clothing.")

PLAN TO HAVE STATES UNITE IN A WAR ON TRUSTS

Attorney Generals Want Congress to Prevent Interference.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 2.—Action that will have far reaching effect in anti-trust and corporation litigation and which will bear fruit in almost every state in the union was taken by the convention of attorneys general in its final session here yesterday. A committee was appointed to draft a scheme of anti-trust legislation to be sent to the attorneys general of every state, and as a climax, the attorneys general adopted a resolution which is expected to remove a thorn in the flesh of the state officers in the interference by federal circuit courts with the operation of state laws.

Permanent organization also was effected under the name of the National Association of Attorneys General of the United States, and a united front will be presented in legal actions brought by the various states against the same corporation or trust.

The resolution is in the shape of a memorial to congress and was framed by a committee composed of Attorneys General E. T. Young, of Minnesota; Dana Malone, of Massachusetts; A. M. Garber, of Alabama; W. T. Thompson, of Nebraska; William H. Dickson, of Colorado, and H. S. Hadley, of Missouri.

Officers Are Chosen.

On recommendation of the committee on organization the following were chosen as officers:

President—H. S. Hadley, of Missouri.

Vice-President—Dana Malone, of Massachusetts.

Secretary and Treasurer—William E. Dickson, of Colorado.

President Hadley appointed a committee to draft a scheme for anti-trust legislation. He also announced that with two or three exceptions all the attorneys general in the union had expressed a desire to participate in future proceedings of the association and in any course of action that might be decided upon.

A CERTAIN CURE FOR CROUP—USED FOR TEN YEARS WITHOUT A FAILURE.

Mr. W. C. Bolt, a Star City, Ind., hardware merchant, is enthusiastic in his praise of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. His children have all been subject to croup and he has used this remedy for the past ten years, and though they much feared the croup, his wife and he always felt safe upon retiring when a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was in the house. His oldest child was subject to severe attacks of croup, but this remedy never failed to effect a speedy cure. He has recommended it to friends and neighbors and all who have used it say that it is unequaled for croup and whooping cough. For sale by all druggists.

MEANS HARD YEAR FOR ALL CATARRH SUFFERERS HERE

An Eminent Authority Predicts Much Suffering and Disease.

The coming months will be a harvest for the doctors and patent medicine manufacturers unless great care is taken to keep the feet dry, also dress warmly.

This is the advice of a well-known authority and should be heeded by all who are subject to rheumatism, kidney and bladder troubles and especially catarrh. While the latter is considered by most sufferers an incurable disease, there are few men and women who will fail to experience great relief from the following simple home prescription, and if taken in time it will prevent an attack of catarrh during the entire season.

Here is the prescription which any one can mix: Fluid Extract Dandelion one-half ounce, Compound Kargon one ounce, Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla three ounces. Shake well in a bottle and use in teaspoonful doses after each meal and again at bedtime.

These are mostly vegetable ingredients and can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy at small cost.

The Comopund Kargon in this prescription acts directly upon the eliminative tissues of the kidneys to make them filter and strain from the blood, the poisons that produce all forms of catarrhal affections. Relief is often felt even after the first few doses and it is seldom that the sufferer ever experiences a return attack within the year.

This prescription makes a splendid remedy for all forms of blood disorders and such symptoms as lame back, bladder weaknesses and rheumatism pains are entirely dispelled.

As this valuable, though simple, recipe comes from a thoroughly reliable source, it should be heeded by every afflicted reader.

MEAT ORDINANCE IS CHANGED.

Retailers in Market Must Pay a License of $10 a Year.

At a meeting of the city council as a committee of the whole last night the meat inspection ordinance was changed so as to impose a license of $10 a year on retailers in the city market, which makes the fee charged the same as is assessed against retailers in stores. Farmers who offer for sale their own products are not included. When this change had been made it was determined to pass the measure.

No action was taken on the cement sidewalk on Creighton avenue between Fairfield and South Wayne avenues. Mr. Henry moved that action be deferred as there is a petition before the board of public works to lay walks from Hoagland avenue to Fox avenue, which includes the strip before the council. It was decided that if the petition is defeated the council can take up the proposition as a whole. There was a fight on the motion, but it finally prevailed.

MEN WILL BE HERE.

On behalf of the Barber Asphalt Paving company, Henry Monning promised the board of works yesterday that there would be an outfit and a force of men here to do the repair work on the streets before the close of the present week.

BEWARE OF OINTMENTS FOR CATARRH THAT CONTAIN MERCURY,

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians as the damage they do is ten fold of the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

MEETING BROUGHT GOOD RESULTS FOR CITY AND COMPANY

City Attorney Will Submit Proposition to Telephone Directors.

Good results were obtained at a lengthy session last night between Mayor Hosey, City Attorney Colerick and Members Lennon, Schwartz and Brosius, of the board of public works, and General Manager W. L. Mueller-ing, Assistant Manager George Fox and M. B. Larimer and E. M. Popp, of the Home Telephone and Telegraph company, and it is possible that the agreement to be submitted by Mr. Colerick under which the city will replace all telephone poles that cannot be used for electric lighting service and in return will be allowed to string its wires on the poles in the company's system will be accepted and end the controversy.

The city finds among the company poles many that are too short, a number that have rotted to such extent that they will not bear any additional load and others are located so as to be of no benefit. It will agree to furnish new ones to replace these and the company will set them up and after a few other little details have been arranged it is likely the factions will come to terms.

The company submitted a rental proposition under which the city would have been permitted to use its poles for a rental of $1 each a year and in turn pay the same amount for such poles as it might use belonging to the city. This was rejected without much discussion as it might be taken as an admission that the city has no right under its franchise to use the upper cross arms.

There was a long discussion of all of the phases of the controversy and there was an evident desire on the part of the city and the company to get together without further litigation.

Distress After Eating

Do You Ever Feel as Though You Had Swallowed a Brick, Instead of a Meal?

That heavy, bloated, stuffed-up, lead-like feeling, which you often experience after eating a meal, is positive proof that something is wrong with your digestive organs. They are becoming weak and fagged out. There is a lack of gastric and other digestive juices. The food is no longer properly digested and it forms a heavy load on your stomach, so that nearly every meal causes you misery and distress.

If you are in this condition, it meant that you have dyspepsia in some form and may have had it for some time, though you didn't realize it.

Now is the time to check it, for if you don't it will surely develop into worse forms of dyspepsia and other stomach troubles, which may have serious results.

But that is not all. The stomach is the hub of the body and an injury to it is an injury to all. A weak stomach causes the whole body to suffer. The action of the heart, liver and kidneys becomes sluggish. The brain becomes inactive. The nerves become unstrung. The blood loses its vitality.

The only safe, sure, scientific method of restoring your stomach to its healthy, normal state, is to use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which will act as a substitute in digesting your food, thus giving your stomach a much needed rest.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have stood the tests for years. Thousands have used them and been cured. Physicians all over the United States recommend them. They are not a secret remedy. They contain fruit and vegetable essences, pure concentrated tincture of hydrastis, golden seal, lactose, and pure aseptic pepsin. These combined ingredients will digest the coarsest kind of food and do the work just as well as any good, strong, healthy stomach will.

Don't take our word for it. Ask your physician, your druggist or any of your friends, who may have used Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. But you don't even have to take their word for it. Find out for yourself. Send for a free sample package and try them. That's the surest way to learn the truth. Then, if you are satisfied, you can go to your nearest druggist and get a fifty-cent box. All druggists sell them.

Write us for a free sample today. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

Japan's Minister of War, With Whom Secretary Taft Discussed Affairs

GENERAL TERAUCHI

Tokio, Japan, Oct. 2.—Secretary Taft and Viscount Terauchi, minister of war, passed two hours a day or two ago informally discussing relations between the United States and Japan. It is possible their conference will bear fruit in formal negotiations between the two governments. Soon after his arrival Mr. Taft drove to General Terauchi's house. Minister Terauchi expressed a wish to discuss at length the general relations between the two countries and Secretary Taft promptly invited him to call. One of Minister Terauchi's aides acted as interpreter.

They agreed there was no real difficulty or difference menacing to peace or seriously threatening the good relations that have existed. Both expressed an earnest wish to take whatever steps are desirable or needful to fully restore and maintain confidence and mutual good feeling.

Immigration and naturalization questions were fully canvassed and the way paved for their future tentative consideration.

A speech a day from the president for ten days is probably worse to the Wall street mind than a coal famine and a car shortage all at once.

It has been previously understood that the Standard Oil company owned everything in the oil business. But it appears from the testimony that it owned all that and a little bit more.

Pennsylvania has undertaken to find out what is contained in breakfast foods. Several new brands may be on the market, however, by the time those under investigation are analyzed.

The admiration of the Honorable Timothy Woodruff for all the possible presidential candidates is the eminent caution of a political artist who is determined to fix things so that he can get down on any side of the fence with peace and security.

Indications from Boise City show that there is a determined effort to supply the penitentiary with a new illuminant in the shape of Summer Moon. He is one of the indicted lumber fraud millionaires and they hope to land him at his full.

Some people are unable to woo Fortune with any success, while others have her favors actually forced on them. Of this class is the mayor of Holyoke, Mass., who vetoed a $500 raise in his salary, whereupon the aldermen immediately passed the measure over its veto.

Among Wisconsin's many reform laws is one pertaining to secret marriages. It is briefly, to the effect that a couple leaving the state and getting married shall, upon returning to the state, make declaration of their marriage to the county clerk and have the same recorded. In the event of failure to do so within ten days the parties are subject to a fine of $100.

Wife of Secretary Root Says She Favors Return to the Army Canteen

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 2.—When Secretary of State Root and Mrs. Root and daughters passed through here en route for Mexico, Mrs. Root, in a brief statement, declared herself emphatically in favor of the re-establishment of the army canteen.

Addressing herself particularly to Representative in Congress Henry S. Caulfield, of St. Louis, who with others made a brief call in Secretary Root's private car, she urged him to vote for the re-establishment of the canteen in the army.

She also advised him not to be deterred from that purpose by possible protests from the wives of constituents.

As a result of the two-cent fare rates which have been passed by many of the western state legislatures, the railroads affected are making every possible effort to retrench to secure the same revenues as they have heretofore enjoyed. The various associations have also made several changes which have been necessitated by the new laws. The secret service departments which were maintained by nearly all of the associations have been dropped. As a result of this the office forces of the Western Passenger and Central Passenger association have been dispensed with. There does not appear to be much concern as to the trunk lines being able to hold their own and possibly show an increase under the new law, but there is much apprehension among the officials and stockholders of the weaker lines.

Charles M. Schwab, as good authority as can be produced in regard to the iron and steel industry, is decidedly optimistic as to the future. In 1880 this country used 1,000,000 tons of steel; last year the American people bought and turned to account 25,000,000 tons, and Mr. Schwab thinks the day is not very distant when the domestic demand will be double what it now is. It has been demonstrated that this country can produce iron and steel cheaper than any other in the world. Many of our iron and coal mines are yet virgin, and the supply is not only limitless, but inexhaustible The demand for steel is growing day by day, not only in America, but in every other country. James J. Hill declares that if left alone, our railroads would expend $5,000,000,000 in improvements as soon as the work could be done. Half of these billions would be for the purchase of steel, and that alone would keep the iron works of this country busy day and night for some years. It would mean the construction of numerous other plants and the employment of thousands of additional hands.

Treasury experts and those in congress who are studying the postal savings bank problem say ordinary savings banks, in spite of their progressive methods, have as yet only reached a small percentage of the actual savings of our people as a result of the last ten years of good crops and high prices for labor. This is peculiarly true when we compare the savings bank statistics of this country with those of Europe. The total individual deposits last year amounted to $3,452,137,198. This is about equal to the aggregate deposits of Great Britain and Germany combined, and from that point of view it would appear that the United States was learning how to save its money. When one studies the savings deposits of the United States in their relation to the total population a different story is told. It appears that with us the savings class is a small one and the amount to the credit of each depositor averages a good deal more than it does across the water. The average deposit in Europe to the total population is generally much greater than it is in the United States, which goes to show that there must be here enormous reserve surplus earnings which have not yet reached the savings banks and which may never reach them. That this untouched surplus would be poured into the government treasury through the postal savings bank there is little doubt, because the guarantee of the government would be back of every dollars. According to the figures prepared by the controller of the currency, the average amount to the credit of each depositor in our savings banks last year was approximately $434. This amount was contributed by 8,027,192 individuals. In Germany in 1902, the last year for which a report happens to be available, the depositors numbered 16,002,088. The number was double that in the United States, but the average for each depositor was only $150. In each case the average of deposits for the total population was about the same, it being $41 in the United States and $40 in Germany.

PLANS ARE APPROVED.

New Addition to Hope Hospital Will Cost $10,000.

The plans for the new addition to Hope hospital, prepared by Architects Weatherhogg & Crocker, were approved by the directors at their meeting last night. Specifications will be made immediately so that bids may be called for and the work on the building, which is much needed, be commenced at once.

The plans call for a three story structure with all modern improvements. The building is to be used as a training school for nurses and it has been determined to have about thirty graduates and under graduate nurses at the hospital all the time.

The building will be styled somewhat similar to the addition which faces Washington street and will be of brick. Room has been provided in the school building for all in service at the hospital, which will give the hospital proper about sixteen additional rooms for the patients. The lecture room, library and reception rooms will be located in the basement of the school. They will have modern conveniences and will be made as attractive as possible. The cost of the addition will be about $10,000.

C. A. Dunkelberg was elected a director to succeed the late Stephen B. Bond.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

What The Sentinel Had to Say About Persons and Events Twenty-Five Years Ago.

The directors of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne & Chicago railroad will meet in New York next Wednesday. Jesse L. Williams and Pliny Hoagland, of this city, will attend.

We acknowledge receipt of an invitation to attend the seventh session of the Medical College of Fort Wayne, on Broadway, Monday evening, October 9. Prof. H. V. Swerlugen will deliver the introductory address.

The Wayne township schools opened today. No. 1 is taught by Lizzie F. Irwin; No. 2 by S. D. Miller; No. 3 by Kate R. Stemen; No. 4 by Louise Horton; No. 5 by Belle Newell; No. 6 by C. Methley; No. 7 by A. J. Cutchard; No. 8 by Mattie Probasco.

Sunday morning the electric light men worked until daylight setting poles to avoid an injunction. Today the matter was satisfactorily settled, and affidavits filed against R. T. McDonald, treasurer of the company, were withdrawn from Justice Zollinger's court.

Inasmuch as the property west of Fairfield avenue, donated by the city, has been abandoned by the Wabash Railroad company, it might be well for the city attorney to begin proceedings for the recovery of the same. The Wabash company has forfeited all rights to recognition by the city.

Fort Wayne will be treated to more first-class attractions this season than have visited us for some years past. There will be two lecture courses in addition to the regular theatrical lights. Among the stars of the lecture course announced were Remenyi, the violinist; Rev. Joseph Cook; Lieut Danenhawer, of the "Jeanette;" Judge Albion W. Tourgee, and "Josh Billings."

The Fort Wayne, Jackson & Saginaw railroad, which was lately secured by Vanderbilt, is to be hereafter known as the Fort Wayne branch of the Lake Shore. An official order is issued placing W. H. Canniff, superintendent of the leading division of the Lake Shore, also in charge of the Fort Wayne branch. The appointment took effect yesterday when Canniff's headquarters were moved to Jackson, Mich.

PRISONER PRESENTS TO COURT DIFFICULT PROPOSITION

Mute Could Neither Read, Write Nor Understand Sign Language.

Judge Skelton had a most difficult proposition before him today in the person of a man who was charged under the name of John Doe with public intoxication. The difficulty arose in the matter of trying him as he is a mute who can neither read or write or understand the sign language used by the deaf and dumb.

He threw a brick or two, it is said, through a window of a relative and his appearance was the second in the last week or two. Before he was held for a member of the family who took him from police station after every effort to communicate with him had been exhausted. His face was badly battered and he showed the effects of either a fall or an encounter. His case was continued until tomorrow morning.

The Other Cases.

The opening exercises were held in the chapel of Westminster hotel and Judge Willis Brown of the Salt Lake City Juvenile court delivered the address. Several hundred persons attended the opening, among the number being the students of the Boys' academy and the Girls' Park school. The students of the agricultural school will use the Winona hotel for a dormitory during the winter, while the Mount Memorial building will be used for a recitation hall.

A year and one-half ago Clark was held on ten counts, which later were quashed. The indictment is a bulky affair, containing twenty closely typewritten pages.

OIL MAN'S BIG TALK PROVED TO BE HEARSAY

Mr. Moffett Wriggles Out of Standard Rebate Charges.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—James A. Moffett, president of the Standard Oil company of Indiana, failed yesterday to make good charges contained in a pamphlet issued by the oil concern, construed by Judge Landis to reflect upon his court.

The oil magnate appeared before the special grand jury summoned to investigate allegations that other Chicago shippers are as guilty as is the Standard Oil company of accepting illegal concessions from railroads. Responsibility for the charges made over Mr. Moffett's signature in the pamphlet issued after Judge Landis had imposed the $29,240,000 fine against the Standard Oil company of Indiana was shifted upon F. S. Hollands, chief rate clerk of the Chicago and Alton railroad.

Whether contempt proceedings against those responsible for the issuance of the pamphlet will follow is not known, but it is likely that Judge Landis in discharging the jury, should the investigation prove fruitless, will consider the oil company's attack a closed incident.

Neither Mr. Moffett nor Mr. Hollands, who immediately was summoned before the jury, threw upon the situation sufficient light to warrant indictments against shippers attacked by innuendo in the circular. The rate clerk has been requested to return to the grand jury room, but it is probable Mr. Moffett will give no further testimony, although he has not yet been officially excused.

All Hearsay Statements.

The oil company's defense lies in the statement of Mr. Moffett that the pamphlet was based upon the testimony given by Mr. Hollands during the trial of the Standard Oil case.

When asked by the grand jury to specify instances complained of in the circular, Mr. Moffett said his information was of a general character, and that the statements made by him were based almost altogether upon Hollands' testimony. This, too, dealt only in generalities, as the jury soon learned.

Before Mr. Hollands left the grand jury room it was reported about the federal building that the government had failed in its effort to obtain proof from the oil magnate and the railroad man involving other corporations.

"The government is merely traveling around a circle, and it looks at present as though nothing will come of the investigation," was the statement of one in close touch with the situation.

HOLLANDS WAS INDEFINITE.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—F. S. Hollands, chief rate clerk of the Chicago and Alton railroad, was the first witness summoned by the federal grand jury today in the investigation now being conducted by that body into the charges made by President Moffett, of the Standard Oil company of Indiana, that other shippers at Whiting, Ind., besides the Standard Oil company, had been guilty of rebating.

Hollands was in the jury room for more than an hour, but his answers were said to have been indefinite and to have failed to substantiate the assertions made by President Moffett.

MOTHER AND SON SLAIN.

Husband Under Arrest and Police Seek Another Man.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 2.—Suspended from a rafter the body of Katherine Dargatz, wife of John A. Dargatz, was found today in a barn in the rear of Dargatz's home in Londonville, a few miles from Albany. Nearby was the body of their nine-year-old adopted son, his head crushed in with an ax. The boy was still alive but died soon after. The husband of the woman was placed under arrest. The police are looking for Jacob Besche, a farmer, who is believed to know something about the tragedy.

BIG ONE BUYS IT.

New York, Oct. 2.—The National Steel and Wire corporation of New Haven has been purchased by the United States Steel corporation.

The purchase is said to have been made at receiver's sale and is believed to involve a sum approximating $600,000. The original cost of the property is said to have been about $2,500,000.

IMPROVEMENTS ON HIS DAD.

Some Signs of Advancement Discovered Down In Georgia.

I was in a Georgia postoffice when a young colored man who was hanging about the corridor approached and asked for 10 cents to buy himself something to eat. This gave me an opportunity to ask him if he thought his race was improving any, and he promptly replied:

"You notice that, do you?"

"I does, sah."

"Take your own case. Do you believe that you are better posted than your father was?"

"Humph! De ole man couldn't hold a candle to me. I was arrested a month ago for stealin' chickens from Kurnel Johnson, and I's jest got outer jail. Dey proved dat I stole five chickens, sah."

"Well, if you were convicted of it I don't see where your sharpness comes in."

"Right yere, sah. I stole a pig at de same time, and de kurnel laid it off on to anodder man and had him sent to jail fur three months. If my fadder had been alive, de kurnel would have proved dat he stole his hull drove and had him sent up fur life!"—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

There Had Been Trouble at Home.

"As odd a client as you can imagine," said Jerome K. Jerome at a lawyers' dinner, "called on a legal friend of mine in Rye one morning.

"She was an extremely pretty client, but her clear, soft eyes were red with weeping. Indeed, she was in tears as she entered my friend's office. Her little form shook with sobs.

"'Well, my dear,' said he (perhaps I should explain that this client was hardly more than seven or eight years old)—'well, my dear, what can I do for you?'

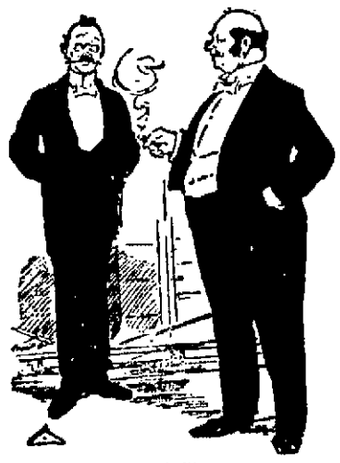
"'Please, sir,' said the child, weeping piteously, 'I want to get a divorce from my papa and mamma.'"—Woman's Home Companion.

Better Than He Knew.

The hour had come for the language lesson in a government Indian school. Among the words on the board to be put into sentences was the word "singular." The teacher explained that it meant queer, peculiar, odd, uncommon. Tommie Stewart, a half breed Crow Indian, twelve years old, produced a result of diligent labor, showing a bit of humor in his makeup and keen observation as far as the Indians were concerned, at least. He wrote the following sentence:

"If a man have no wife he is singular."—Harper's Weekly.

The Old Trouble.



"How's your wife?"

"Well, her head's troubling her a great deal just at present."

"I'm sorry. Is it neuralgia?"

"No; a new hat!"—Once a Week.

"Say, yer a disgrace ter de perfesh," sneered Weary Walker. "I heard yer tellin' dat woman yer'd saw some wood fur her if she'd give yer a meal."

Responsibility.

"Has he a proper sense of responsibility?" asked the earnest patriot.

"I don't know," answered Senator Sorghum. "I sometimes fear he is one of those people who are so anxious to be financially responsible that they forget to be morally responsible."—Washington Star.

For Old Bones.

"Did you say the Rogerses are a very thrifty family?"

"Indeed I did. You know the skeleton in their closet?"

"Yes."

"Well, they have sold it to a medical school."—Harper's Weekly.

"The new Thaw trial will be along different lines."

"So?"

"Yes; there will be a consistent plot, an intelligible libretto and no interpolated specialties."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Another Name For It.

"Was Mrs. Gabbleton in the witness box this afternoon?" asked the judge's wife.

"Yes," answered the judge, "but it was more like a chatterbox during the time she occupied it."—Chicago News.

I am confident that both countries will continue to be as friendly as they have in the past and not afford occasion for misrepresentation by anybody."

KILLED BY DEGENERATE.

Shocking Disclosure in Case of Nellie Quinn in New York.

New York, Oct. 2.—An autopsy performed today on the body of Nellie Quinn, who was found dead in a furnished room in East 118th street yesterday, showed that her death was caused by a degenerate and that she was the victim of atrocious maltreatment. What were at first supposed to be the marks of a bludgeon on the victim's face and body were found to be the marks of human teeth. According to the coroner's physician there was nothing to show that the girl had been beaten or choked to death.

George W. Kramer, who was arrested last night and who said he shared the room with the young woman from Friday to Monday, it was said today by officials, did not appear to be in his right mind.

Miss Ethel Mossman was honored guest at a party given by Miss Gladys Williams last evening. The guests were members of a club of which both hostess and honor guest are members, and special entertainment for Miss Mossman had been planned. "Showers" are not infrequent for coming brides, but Miss Williams gave hers an original character by having it of spoons. Until one attended a spoon shower she would not believe the possibilities and perhaps would think only of silver teaspoons, instead of various sizes and uses of the articles in wood, aluminum, tin, granite ware and silver that are made. Another feature of the party was the making of ribbon sachets for the bride-elect. The hostess furnished ribbons and other necessary material and the guests made them up. Supper was served at small tables and pretty place cards were souvenirs of the occasion. The guests were Mrs. W. E. Stout, Mrs. Edward Feustal, Miss Maud Gaskins, Miss Sue Geake, Miss Carrie Akers, Miss Anna Sinclair, Miss Mary Seaton, Miss Mabel Crosby, Mrs. Earl Browne, of Providence, R. I.

Fashion in Boas

Accessories to costumes are to play quite as important a part in winter fashions as the gowns themselves, and none will be more desirable than fancy boa and muff.

These, made of feathers of many different kinds, will be seen in the streets with the first cool days of autumn, and are intended strictly as a dressy finish. For evening and receptions they will be used all winter, and either white or most delicate shades will then reign supreme.

For carrying when making afternoon calls afoot dark or combinations of colors will be smart.

The boa length varies from that falling just to the bust line to others that reach almost to the bottom of the skirt. The wearer's height should be regarded in making a selection.

FOOD STOPPED IT

Good Food Worth More Than a Gold Mine.

To find a food that will put an absolute stop to "running down" is better than finding a gold mine.

Many people when they begin to run down go from one thing to another without finding a food that will stop the progress of disease. Grape-Nuts is the most nourishing food known and will set one right if that is possible.

The experience of a Louisiana lady may be interesting. "I received a severe nervous shock some years ago and from that and overwork gradually broke down. My food did not agree with me and I lost flesh rapidly. I changed from one kind of food to another but was unable to stop the loss of flesh and strength.

"I do not exaggerate when I say that I finally became, in reality, a living skeleton. My nights were sleepless, and I was compelled to take opiates in various forms. After trying all sorts of food without success I finally got down to toasted bread with a little butter, and after a while this began to sour and I could not digest it. Then I took to toasted crackers and lived on them for several weeks, but kept getting weaker.

"One day Grape-Nuts was suggested and it seemed to me from the description that it was just the sort of food I could digest. I began by eating a small portion, gradually increasing the amount each day.

"My improvement began at once for it afforded me the nourishment that I had been starving for. No more harassing pains and indigestion. For a month I ate nothing but Grape-Nuts and a little cream, then I got so well I could take on other kinds of food. I gained flesh rapidly and now I am in better health than I have been in years. I still stick to Grape-Nuts because I like the food and I know of its powerful nourishing properties. My physician says that my whole trouble was a lack of power to digest food, that no other food that he knows of would have brought me out of the trouble except Grape-Nuts." "There's a Reason."

Government Plans Rigid Enforcement of Pure Food Act.

Washington, Oct. 2.—The new food law requiring accurate labeling of food products having gone into effect yesterday the department of justice is preparing for a campaign of enforcement of the statute.

THREATENS TO SECEDE.

British Columbia Wants England to Limit Jap Invasion.

Berlin, Oct. 2.—That British Columbia might prefer an attempt at secession rather than submit to unrestricted Japanese immigration is the substance of a private report that reached here yesterday from Vancouver.

A quiet but determined movement is under way, according to these advices, to show the Dominion government that Americans the little brown men without further efforts to force on the British any limitations as to the numbers and as to character, will be met with desperate measures.

The British Americans are watching closely the exchanges of good fellowship between American and Japan the last few days, with Secretary Taft as the prime purveyor for the United States. They regard the recent occurrences in Vancouver as embarrassing for Japan and say they place it beyond her power to ask anything from the United States she does not ask from Great Britain.

The threats of secession are not looked upon as idle ones here. That the British Columbians are considerably worked up over the Japanese affair no one can doubt. There is a strong undercurrent existing, and the advices received yesterday indicate that radical steps will be taken to carry out their rules.

BOILED POTATOES.

Potatoes are nicer, of finer flavor and more nutritious if not peeled before cooking. The best part of the potato, the salts or flavoring principle, lie next the skin, while, according to experiments at the Storrs Agricultural Experiment Station, it has been found that three per cent of the carbohydrates and four per cent of the albuminoid material are lost when potatoes are cooked with their skins removed. Scrub the potatoes in cold water, using a vegetable brush for this purpose. Then with a sharp knife cut a little band of skin around the centre of the potato and a little bit of the skin from each end. Put into the saucepan, cover with boiling water, cook rapidly about fifteen minutes, and salt in the proportion of a tablespoonful to a dozen potatoes; then continue boiling ten or fifteen minutes longer, until the potato is tender enough to be pierced with a fork or skewer. Drain at once, push back on the stove, and let them steam uncovered until every particle of the steam has gone and the potatoes are mealy. They may be served in their jackets or without, as preferred. The peeling is quickly accomplished. If they must be kept warm any length of time a layer of cheesecloth spread over the kettle will keep out the cold air and assist in retaining the heat. If the potatoes are of different sizes put the large ones in first, and after they have boiled five minutes add the smaller. Old potatoes are sometimes better if soaked in cold water for one-half hour before cooking, but new ones lose much of their nutritive value if soaked. If you prefer to peel the potatoes before cooking peel thin. In the case of new potatoes the thin outer skin can be rubbed off with a brush or coarse towel. Another nice way to boil potatoes with their jackets on is to put into hot brine and boil until tender. If you can get this from some salt manufactory, as at Syracuse, this is best. If not, make it at home; but it must be strong. Serve with jackets on and plenty of good butter.

PITCHED HARD LUCK GAME AGAINST CHICAGO

HIGHLANDERS PUT WHITE SOX OUT OF RACE FOR FLAG

New York, Oct. 2.—Clark Griffith and his handy Highlanders put the world's champions practically out of the pennant race by drubbing them in a three-to-one matinee and the very small margin on which the White Sox figured as a possible chance to win the flag a second time went glimmering after Jones and his men had made a strong bid in the ninth, when they secured three hits off Chesbro, who was given such excellent support that no runs resulted.

Any old kind of a hit would have won at that stage. There were two men on bases waiting to come in and tie the score and only one gone, but Rohe and Sullivan fell victims to the deception of Chesbro, who fooled them without putting a ball over the plate. There is just one chance—if Philadelphia and Detroit lose all their games and the Sox win all that are to be played they can win. This is so very remote that the players themselves do not hope for it and they have practically given up. The score:

Chicago	0	7	1
New York	3	6	2

Batteries—Walsh and Sullivan; Chesbro and Kleinow.

Two-base hits—Elberfeld, Dougherty, Davis. Three-base hit—Laporte. Sacrifice hit—Bell. Stolen bases—Williams, Hoffman. Double play—Williams to Chase. Struck out—By Chesbro, 4; by Walsh, 1. Passed ball—Sullivan. Wild pitches—Walsh, 2. Time of game—1:55. Umpire—Egan.

ATHLETICS WHITEWASH NAPS.

Philadelphia Wins and Holds Second Place in the Race.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 2.—Philadelphia, with Dygert in the box, walloped the hard-hitting Clevelanders in a shut-out affair and kept on unchanged terms in the fight for the pennant in the American league pennant fight. The Quaker southpaw, who retired Monday under a heavy fire from the Tigers, had his repertoire in good working order all the way through the scrap yesterday and at no time was he in any danger from the Lajoie crowd.

Berger was slated for slab duty by Cleveland and he was given such a warm reception that he retired in favor of Rhoades, who held the Phillies to three hits and one run after the second inning. The score:

Cleveland	0	3	0
Philadelphia	4	10	1

Batteries—Berger, Rhoades and Bemis; Dygert and Schreck.

Two-base hit—Lajoie. Hits—Off Berger, 7 in 2 innings; off Rhoades, 2 in 6 innings. Sacrifice hit—Oldring. Stolen bases—Nat Lewis. Double play—Lajoie to Lister. First base on balls—Off Rhoades, 4; off Dygert, 2. Hit by pitcher—By Dygert, 1. Struck out—By Rhoades, 1; by Dygert, 8. Wild pitch—Rhoades. Time of game—1:50. Umpires—Connolly and O'Loughlin.

TIGERS COME FROM BEHIND.

Batting Rally Takes Game in the Sixth Inning.

Washington, Oct. 2.—Detroit again demonstrated staying qualities that have signalized its playing in the east and won out after having allowed Washington to gain what appeared to be a winning lead. In the sixth inning, with two men out and the score 3 to 1 in favor of Washington, Cobb began a batting rally with a single to center.

Rossman hit into the crowd in left field for two bases, Cobb going to third. Coughlin doubled to right, tallying Cobb and Rossman and tying the score. Schmidt drove Coughlin home with a single to left, and the inning ended with the score, Detroit, 4; Washington, 3. Detroit clinched the game in the next inning, Schaefer scoring, after two were out, on his single, a steal and Crawford's stinger to center. The score:

Washington	3	8	2
Detroit	5	11	4

Batteries—Johnson and Warner; Seiver and Schmidt.

Two-base hits—C. Jones, Rossman, Coughlin. Sacrifice hit—Schaefer. Stolen bases—Schaefer, Cobb, Gaudy (2), O'Brien. Double play—Cobb to Rossman. Bases on balls—Off Johnson, 1; off Siever, 1. Struck out—By Johnson, 5; by Siever, 6. Time of game—1:55. Umpires—Brown and Hurst.

WIN ON SQUEEZE PLAY.

St. Louis Works Trick Successfully on the Bean Eaters.

Boston, Oct. 2.—A successful exposition of the squeeze play gave St. Louis the winning run in a 2 to 1 victory over the local team. Both pitchers were effective, but the stick work of the visitors was the more timely. The score:

Boston	1	5	2
St. Louis	2	5	1

Batteries—Harris and Shaw; Bailey and Spencer.

Two-base hit—Parent. Sacrifice hits—Wallace (2), Stone. Stolen bases—Pickering, Grimshaw. Double play—Hartzell to Niles. First base on balls—Off Bailey, 3; off Harris, 2. Struck out—By Bailey, 2; by Harris, 6. Passed ball—Shaw. Time of game—1:31. Umpire—Sheridan.

Wins Minor League Championship by Defeating Columbus Four Games.

Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 2.—By defeating Columbus the Toronto club of the Eastern league won the class A minor league championship. Only five games were played, and of these Toronto won four, two here and two on her own grounds. The series of games aroused but little interest here, and the patronage was disappointing to the players. The game was called at the end of the eighth inning on account of darkness. Score:

Toronto	5	10	2
Columbus	3	8	0

Batteries—Applegate and Carrigan; Wicker, Townsend and Eller.

S.S.S. PURIFIES THE BLOOD

Bad blood is responsible for most of the ailments of mankind. When from any cause this vital fluid becomes infected with impurities, humors or poisons, disease in some form is sure to follow. Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Boils, Pimples, etc., while they show on the skin, have an underly cause which is far deeper—an impure, humor infected blood supply, and until this is corrected, and the blood purified, the distressing itching and burning symptoms will remain. Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Blood Poison and all other blood disorders, are the result of a vitiated, polluted circulation, and will continue to grow worse unless the poison is removed from the blood. In all blood and skin diseases S. S. S. has proved itself a perfect remedy. It goes down into the circulation and removes all waste matter, humors or poisons, and makes the blood pure and health-sustaining. Nothing reaches inherited taints and old chronic troubles like S. S. S.; it cures because it purifies the blood and restores lost properties to the impoverished circulation. Not only is S. S. S. a blood purifier of the highest order, but a tonic and appetizer without an equal. Book on the blood and any medical advice desired sent free to all who write.

YALE ELEVEN TRIMS SCRUBS.

Scores a Place Kick and Safety—Started the Season Yesterday.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 1.—In practice the varsity won 6 to 0, scoring a goal from placement and a safety as a final practice for the season's opening. For five minutes the varsity was unable to gain. Jones caught a punt in middle and rushed thirty yards. The varsity then hammered the scrubs to the five-yard line.

Holt of the scrubs tried to punt, but his kick was blocked and the ball rolled behind the goal. Bradley, the second eleven full back, fell on the ball for a safety.

Berger kicked to the scrubs' twenty-yard mark. The scrubs, unable to gain, punted, Berger catching fair on the thirty-yard line. Bomar kicked a place goal.

CORNELL GETS SOME REVENGE.

Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 2.—In a short but fierce scrimmage the Cornell varsity revenged itself on the scrubs for the defeats of the past week, scoring one touchdown in about twenty minutes of play. The score was 5 to 0. Although the first game with Hamilton is at hand, the regulars would not be denied their opportunity, and insisted on getting into the game. Sharp, fierce plugs by Walder, Tydeman and Shearer, which gained four or five yards at a time, finally brought the ball close to the goal posts, and Captain Cook, who was playing end, carried it across in a tandem play.

WORRIES OVER FULL BACK JOB

Michigan Coach Cannot Choose Between Loell and Rheinschild.

An Arbor, Mich., Oct. 2.—A preliminary scrimmage to the varsity scrub game, which will be a workout for the Case game of Saturday, was held yesterday. Is it Rheinschild or Loell for full back? That is a question that bothers the coach as much as anything else.

Harry Hammond has been granted a leave of absence to go to Chicago to attend a wedding and will not be back for the scrimmage. The scrubs scored on the varsity for the first time this season. Green, on a quarter back run, skirted the varsity and went forty yards for a touchdown. But the varsity tallied four times. Sullivan, the scrappy baseball player who was tagged for the gridiron this year, had his first whirl in the position. He was a raw one at passing, but he injected enough life into the varsity so that they got a touchdown in three minutes of play.

COMISKEY IS HOPEFUL.

Will Not Give Up Until the Last Chance Is Gone.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—In an interview Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the Chicago American says: "I will not give up the flag until the last chance is gone, although it might look that the Sox are up against it. However, win or lose, my team has made a wonderful fight against odds that would have tumbled most teams into the second division. They have shown gameness to the core and they will finish with the flag nailed to the mast. I am proud of Jones and his men and they have my hearty congratulations regardless of the outcome."

STARS BACK AT NOTRE DAME

Notre Dame, Ind., Oct. 2.—Notre Dame's football stock has taken a great boom. Munson, last year's 200-pound guard, joined the squad, as did also Doyle, who alternated at tackle last season. Thirty-five men were out, and, with only two positions now to fill in the line, prospects have suddenly taken a change for the better. Wood was shifted to end, and may become a fixture there. Cripe continues to play a great game at half back, and it looks as if he will be Callcrate's running mate.

HOW TO CURE A COLD.

The question of how to cure a cold without unnecessary loss of time is one in which we are all more or less interested, for the quicker a cold is gotten rid of, the less the danger of pneumonia and other serious diseases. Mr. R. W. L. Hall, of Waverly, Va., has used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for years and says: "I firmly believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be absolutely the best preparation on the market for colds. I have recommended it to my friends and they all agree with me." For sale by all druggists.

PAT MORAN MAKES HIT THAT WINS GAME FOR CUBS

Ties Game With Hit in Ninth and Wins in the Eleventh.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—After delivering a hit in the ninth that enabled the Cubs to hook up with the Giants, Pat Moran stung one in the eleventh that sent over the winning run for the National champions in the game with McGraw's New Yorkers. Matthewson had most everything at his command and did not allow but six hits during the entire performance, but one of them followed a muff by Merkle in the ninth and another fell to Sheckard in the eleventh, while a double by Chance and a long fly by Moran brought up the rear and were responsible for the winning run. Score:

Batteries—Fraser, Lundgren and Moran; Matthewson and Bresnahan.

OLDFIELD DRAWS WELL AND GIVES CROWD BIG SHOW

Claims to Have Lowered Track Record by Few Seconds.

Barney Oldfield gave a good show to the large and fashionable audience that gathered yesterday afternoon for the purpose of seeing him and Ollie Savin take dare-devil chances on their lives by tearing around the driving park track at a rate of a mile a minute, and everybody was satisfied.

Oldfield was the whole show and although there was a program of automobile races they were carded for no other purpose than to give the champion driver a chance to show himself and his green dragon while Savin was tacked on as a sort of understudy to give eclat to the finishes. He was beaten two feet in the race with Oldfield and would probably have lost his job if he had given the top-liner a beating or been beaten more than a yard.

Oldfield was timed in fifty-four seconds flat for a mile in an attempt to lower his former record here. The time is twelve seconds faster than that of his previous record. In the opening event for motor cycles Harvey Hickox was the winner over C. C. Kelly and J. I. VanTochine.

Edward White's machine beat Dr. Duemling's in the two-mile race for cars costing more than $1,000 and also took the cup in the event for cars costing more than $1,500 against one entry from Auburn. There were four machines in the fourth event, including W. M. Griffin and Walter McLallen, of Columbia City, and Mr. White's machine also took this race.

William M. Griffin drove his own machine in the handicap and took the event against Savin's Red Devil, a Winton entered by the Randall Wheel company, and McLallen's machine. Ralph Keplinger, in the McLallen auto, took the novelty race in which each driver was to make the first mile alone, pick up four men in the second, discharge them in the third and take them up again in the fourth. One or two lads who volunteered for the service were dumped and badly shaken up.

CURLERS ELECT OFFICERS.

At the annual meeting of the Fort Wayne Curling club last night, C. L. Centlivre was elected president, James Gillie vice president, Bert Branson secretary and William Schelman treasurer. William Lawson, David McKay and A. E. Carroll were named on the board of directors. Another meeting with a banquet will be held before the opening of the season.

Miss Taylor will give a purple reception and prize frolic Wednesday evening, Oct. 2. 1-2t.

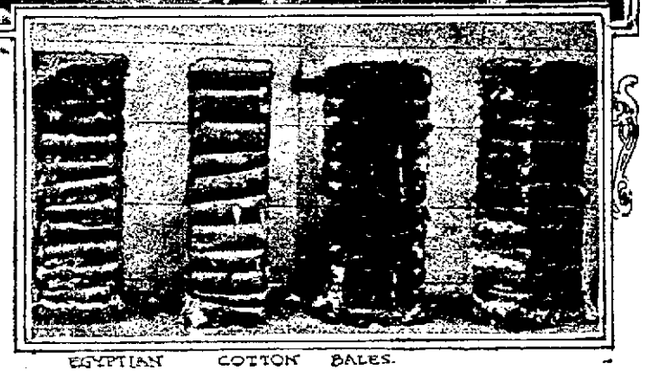
Atlanta Cotton Meeting Will Be of World Interest

AMERICAN COTTON BALES.



EGYPTIAN COTTON BALES.

In no branch of business are the interests of producers of raw material and of manufacturers so fully represented as in the cotton industry. Four leading associations deal with the various broad divisions, two of them acting for the planters and the other two for the manufacturers. The Southern Cotton association was formed about three years ago, shortly after the speculative advance in cotton had led to the serious consideration of existing conditions. Under the presidency of Harvie Jordan it has endeavored to create a healthy public opinion upon questions affecting cotton growing, and has prepared the way for needed reforms. The Farmers' Educational and Co-Operative union has been arousing the planters to a full appreciation of the duties and responsibilities incumbent on them.

Manufacturers' associations are of much earlier date, and have in the past done a good deal of work calculated to benefit the cotton growing as well as the manufacturing industry. The older of the two organizations of this class, the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers, with headquarters at Boston, has just issued a call for its eighty-third semi-annual meeting. The other body, the American Cotton Manufacturers' association, of Charlotte, N. C., though of more recent formation, has been equally active in promoting the interests of cotton manufacturing. Both organizations have recently made changes in their titles, indicating a broadening of their scope.

From these facts it will be seen that the cotton conference to be held at Atlanta on October 7, 8 and 9, under the auspices of the four bodies named, will be a thoroughly representative gathering. Its object will be not only the discussion of those points which affect cotton growers and domestic manufacturers, but also to deal with questions in which foreign consumers of cotton are deeply interested. With this object more than one hundred European delegates are here or on their way. Of these about sixty are from England, twenty from Germany, ten from France, eleven from Austria, five from Belgium, four from Italy and two each from Spain and Russia.

While American cotton growers and manufacturers are uniting in doing honor to the visiting delegates, there are points where the interests of American manufacturers, as such, are opposed to those of cotton growers and are in harmony with those of the European visitors. On the crucial question of price, however, American makers have interests of a nature different from those of European spinners. Being mainly dependent upon the home market for the sale of their products, they are bound by considerations as to the welfare of the cotton growing states, representing a population of about fifteen millions, or nearly one-fifth of the national total. The maintenance of a prosperous south is a matter in which the foreign consumer of cotton is only interested to the slight indirect extent represented by his trade in fine cotton goods with the American market.

in improving the greatest system of river highways within its borders; and asserted that it is a matter in which the whole country is interested. Continuing he said:

If the Mississippi is restored to its former place of importance as a highway of commerce, then the building of the Panama canal will be felt as an immediate advantage to the business of every city and country district in the Mississippi valley. I think that the building of that canal will be of especial advantage to the states that lie along the Pacific and the states that lie along the Gulf; and yet, after all, I feel that the advantage will be shared in an only less degree by the states of the interior and of the Atlantic coast. In other words, it is a thoroughly national work, undertaken for and redounding to the advantage of all of us to the advantage of the nation as a whole. Therefore I am glad to be able to report to you how well we are doing with the canal. There is bound to be a certain amount of experiment, a certain amount of feeling our way, in a task so gigantic as the task greater than any of its kind that has ever hitherto been undertaken by the whole history of mankind; but the success so far has been astonishing, and we have not met with a single one of the accidents or drawbacks which I freely confess I expected we should from time to time encounter. We, in the first place, laid the foundation for the work by securing the most favorable possible conditions as regard the health, comfort, and safety of the men who were to do it; and now the canal zone is in point of health better off than the average district of the same size at home. Then we went at the problem of actual digging and dam building. For over a year past we have been engaged in making the dirt fly in good earnest, and the output of the giant steam shovels has steadily increased. It is now the rainy season, when work is most difficult on the Isthmus, yet in the month of August last we excavated over a million and two hundred thousand cubic yards of earth and rock, a greater amount than in any previous month. If we are able to keep up substantially the rate of progress that now obtains we shall finish the actual digging within five or six years; though when we come to the great Gatun dam and locks, while there is no question as to the work being feasible, there are several elements entering into the time problem which make it unwise at present to hazard a prophecy in reference thereto.

Big Navy Is Needed.

Now, gentlemen, this leads me up to another matter for national consideration, and that is our navy. The navy is not primarily of importance only to the coast regions. It is every bit as much the concern of the farmer who dwells a thousand miles from sea water as of the fisherman who makes his living on the ocean, for it is the concern of every good American who knows what the meaning of the word patriotism is. This country is definitely committed to certain fundamental policies as the Monroe doctrine, for instance, and to the duty not only of building, but when it is built, of policing and defending the Panama canal. We have definitely taken our place among the great world powers, and it would be a sign of ignoble weakness, having taken such a place, to shirk its responsibilities. Therefore, unless we are willing to abandon this place, to abandon our insistence upon the Monroe doctrine, to give up the Panama canal, and to be content to acknowledge ourselves a weak and timid nation, we must steadily build up and maintain a great fighting navy. Our navy is already so efficient as to be a matter of just pride to every American. So long as our navy is no larger than at present it must be considered as an elementary principle that the bulk of our battle fleet must always be kept together. When the Panama canal is built it can be transferred without difficulty from our part of our coast to the other; but even before that canal is built it ought to be thus transferred to and fro from time to time. In a couple of months our fleet of great armored ships starts for the Pacific, California, Oregon, and Washington have a coast line which is our coast line just as emphatically as is the coast line of New York and Maine, of Louisiana and Texas. Our fleet is going to its own home waters in the Pacific, and after a stay there it will return to its own home waters in the Atlantic. The best place for a naval officer to learn his duties is at sea, by performing them, and only by actually putting through a voyage of this nature, a voyage longer than any ever before undertaken by as large a fleet of any nation, can we find out just exactly what is necessary for us to know as to our naval needs and practice our officers and enlisted men in the highest duties of their profession. Among all our citizens there is no body of equal size to whom we owe quite as much as to the officers and enlisted men of the army and navy of the United States, and I bespeak from you the fullest and heartiest support, in the name of our nation and of our flag, for the services to which these men belong.

Control of Corporations.

In conclusion I wish to say a word to this body, consulting as it does so many business men, upon what is preeminently a business proposition, and that is the proper national supervision and control of corporations. At the meeting of the American Bar association in this last August Judge Charles E. Amidon, of North Dakota, read a paper on the Negro and the Constitution so admirable that it is deserving of very wide study; for what he said was, as all studies of law in its highest form ought to be, a contribution to constructive jurisprudence as it should be understood not only by judges but by legislators, not only by those who interpret and decide the law, but by those who make it and who administer or execute it. He quoted from Justice Miller, of the supreme court, to the effect that even in the interpretation of the constitution to-day, the high authority of the land, the court's successive decisions must be tested by the way they work in actual application to the national life, the court adding to its thought and study the results of experience and observation until the true solution is evolved by a process both of inclusion and exclusion. Said Justice Miller: "The meaning of the constitution is to be sought as much in the national life as in the dictionary." So, too, it has been well said, governmental policy out of a law library can never be really good government.

Now, that the question of government are becoming so largely economic, the majority of our so-called constitutional cases spring from and depend upon the interpretation of the instrument itself, but upon the construction, the right apprehension of the living conditions to which it is to be applied. The constitution is now and must remain what it always has been; but it can only be interpreted as the interests of the whole people demand. If interpreted as a living organism, designed to meet the conditions of life and not of death, in other words, if interpreted as Marshall interpreted it, as Wilson declared it should be interpreted. The Marshall theory, the theory of life and not of death, allows to the nation, that is to the people as a whole, when once it finds a subject within the national cognizance, the widest and freest choice of methods for national control, and sustains every exercise of national power which has any reasonable relation to national objects. The negation of this theory means, for instance, that the nation that we, the ninety millions of people of this country, will be left helpless to control the huge corporations which now loom large in our industrial life, and that they will have the authority of the courts to work their desires unchecked; and such a decision would in the end be as disastrous for them as for us. If the theory of the Marshall school prevails, then an immense field of national power, now unused, will be developed, which will be adequate for dealing with many if not all, of the economic problems which vex us; and we shall be saved from the ominous threat of a constant oscillation between economic tyranny and economic chaos. Our industrial, and therefore our social, future as a nation depends upon settling aright this urgent question.

Passed to Nation's Control.

The constitution is unchanged and unchangeable save by amendment in due form. But the conditions to which it is to be applied have undergone a change which is almost a transformation, with the result that many subjects formerly under the control of the states have come under the control of the nation. As one of the justices of the supreme court has recently said: "The growth of national powers, under our constitution, which marks merely the great outlines and designates only the great objects of national concern, is to be compared to the growth of a country not by the geographical enlargement of its boundaries, but by the increase of its population." A hundred years ago there was, except the commerce which crawled along our seacoast or up and down our interior waterways, practically no interstate commerce. Now, by the railroad, the mails, the telegraph and the telephone an immense part of our commerce is interstate. By the transformation it has escaped from the power of the state and come under the power of the nation. Therefore there has been a practical change in the exercise of the national power, under the acts of congress, over interstate commerce; while on the other hand there has been no noticeable change in the exercise of the national power "to regulate commerce with foreign nations and with the Indian tribes." The change as regards interstate commerce has been not in the constitution, but in the business of the people to which it is to be applied. Our economic and social future depends in a very large part upon how the interstate commerce power of the nation is interpreted.

Nation's Power Undoubted.

I believe that the nation has the whole governmental power over interstate commerce and the widest discretion in dealing with that subject; of course under the express limits prescribed in the constitution for the exercise of all powers, even the widest. Instances as the courts say, "of excessive duty" shall not be denied. The nation has no direct power over purely intrastate commerce, even where it is conducted by the same agencies which conduct interstate commerce. The courts must determine what is national and what is state commerce. The same reasoning which sustained the power of congress to incorporate the United States bank tends to sustain the power to incorporate an interstate railroad, or any other corporation conducting an interstate business.

There are difficulties arising from our dual form of government. If they prove to be insuperable resort must be had to the power of amendment. Let us first try to meet them by an exercise of all the powers of the national government which in the Marshall spirit of broad interpretation can be found in the constitution as it is. They are of vast extent. The chief economic question of the day in this country is to provide a sovereign for the great corporations engaged in interstate business, that is, for the railroads and the interstate industrial corporations. At the present moment nine cases in ten with the railroads. When railroads were first built they were purely local in character. Their boundaries were not coextensive even with the boundaries of one state. They usually covered but two or three counties. All this has now changed. At present five great systems embody nearly four fifths of the total mileage of the country. All the most important railroads are no longer state roads, but instruments of interstate commerce. Probably 85 per cent of their business is interstate business. It is the action alone which can with wisdom, justice, and efficiency be exercised over these interstate railroads. The thorough and complete supervision which should be exercised. One of the chief, and probably the chief, of the domestic causes for the adoption of the constitution was the need to confer upon the nation exclusive control over interstate commerce. But this grant of power is worthless unless it is held to confer thoroughgoing and complete control over practically the sole instrumentalities of interstate commerce—the interstate railroads. The railroads themselves have been exceedingly short sighted in the rancorous bitterness which they have shown against the resumption by the nation of this long-neglected power. Great capitalists, who pride themselves upon their extreme conservatism, often believe they are acting in the interests of property when following a course so short sighted as to be really an assault upon property. They have shown extreme unwisdom in the violent opposition to the assumption of complete control over the railroads by the federal government.

Will Not Tolerate It.

The American people will not tolerate the happy-go-lucky system of no control over the great interstate railroads, with the insolent and manifold abuses which have so generally accompanied it. The control must exist somewhere; and unless it is by thoroughgoing and radical law placed upon the statute books of the nation, it will be exercised in ever-increasing measure by the several states. The same considerations which made the founders of the constitution deem it imperative that the nation should have complete control of interstate commerce apply with peculiar force to the control of interstate railroads at the present day; and the arguments of Madison of Virginia, Pinkney of South Carolina, and Hamilton and Jay of New York, in their essence apply now as they applied one hundred and twenty years ago.

The national convention which framed the constitution, and in which almost all the most eminent of the first generation of American statesmen sat, embodied the theory of the instrument in a resolution, to the effect that the national government should have power in cases where the separate states were incompetent to act with full efficiency, and where the harmony of the United States would be interrupted by the exercise of such individual legislation. The interstate railroad situation is exactly a case in point. There will, of course, be local matters affecting railroads which can best be dealt with by local authority, but as national commercial agents the big interstate railroad ought to be completely subject to national authority. Only thus can we secure their complete subjection to, and control by, a single sovereign, representing the whole people, and capable both of protecting the public and of seeing that the railroads neither inflict nor endure injustice.

Personally I firmly believe that there should be national legislation to control all industrial corporations doing an interstate business, including the control of the output of their securities, but as to these the necessity for federal control is less urgent and immediate than is the case with the railroads. Many of the abuses connected with these corporations will probably tend to disappear now that the government—the public—is gradually getting the upper hand as regards putting a stop to the rebates and special privileges which some of these corporations have enjoyed at the hands of the common carriers. But ultimately it will be found that the complete remedy for these abuses lies in direct and affirmative action by the national government. That there is constitutional power for the national regulation of these corporations I have myself no question. Two or three generations ago there was just as much hostility to national control of banks as there is now to national control of railroads or of industrial corporations doing an interstate business.

Now Seems Ludicrous.

The hostility now seems to us ludicrous in its lack of warrant; in like manner, gentlemen, our descendants will regard with wonder the present opposition to giving the national government adequate power to control those great corporations, which it alone can fully and yet wisely, safely, and justly control. Remember also that to regulate the formation of these corporations offers one of the most direct and efficient methods of regulating their activities.

I am not pleading for an extension of constitutional power. I am pleading that constitutional power which already exists shall be applied to new conditions which did not exist when the constitution went into being. I ask that the national powers already conferred upon the national government by the constitution shall be so used as to bring national commerce and industry effectively under the authority of the federal government and thereby avert industrial chaos. My plea is not to bring about a condition of centralization. It is that the government shall recognize a condition of centralization in a field where it already exists. When the national banking law was passed it represented in reality not centralization, but recognition of the fact that the country had so far advanced that the currency was already a matter of national concern and must be dealt with by the central authority at Washington. So it is with interstate industrialism and especially with the matter of interstate railroad operation today. Centralization has already taken place in the world of commerce and industry. All I ask is that the national government look this fact in the face, accept it as a fact, and fit itself accordingly for a policy of supervision and control over this centralized commerce and industry.

President Roosevelt concluded speaking at 12:20. The weather had cleared and the sun was shining brightly as he again entered his carriage and drove off to the Jefferson hotel amid cheers of the multitude. He was officially entertained at luncheon at the Jefferson hotel.

An Imitation Stove Will Give Imitation Heat

Avoid the cheaply constructed, putty jointed stove as you would counterfeit money, because it is just as worthless—and in many cases even more so. For not only does it radiate heat badly, but it wastes its original cost many times in fuel.

The majority of manufacturers, attracted by the phenomenal success of Cole's Original Hot Blast Stove, have imitated and copied it ever since it was put on the market. But in looks only have they been able to reproduce this wonderful heater.

For the features which make Cole's Hot Blast so economical in fuel, so effective in heating, and so durable in construction, are all patented and protected.

The joints of the ordinary stove are plastered with stove putty in an endeavor to make them air-tight. When the putty dries up and falls out, cold air is sucked in through the cracks—and the valuable gases from soft or hard coal, which should be burned, go up the chimney, along with most of the heat.

Cole's Original Hot Blast Stove

Burns Soft Coal, Lignite, Hard Coal or Wood

Made without stove putty. It remains air tight during the entire life of the stove, and is sold under the following guarantee, which cannot be made on any other heating stove in the world:

GUARANTEE:

1—We guarantee a saving of one-third in fuel over any lower draft stove of the same size with soft coal or slack.
2—We guarantee Cole's Hot Blast to use less hard coal for heating a given space than any base burner made with the same size fire-pot.
3—We guarantee that the rooms can be heated from one to two hours each morning, with the soft coal or hard coal put in the stove the evening before.
4—We guarantee that the stove will hold fire with soft coal thirty-six hours without attention.
5—We guarantee a uniform heat day and night, with soft coal, hard coal, or lignite.
6—We guarantee every stove to remain absolutely air-tight as long as used.
7—We guarantee the feed door to be smoke and dust proof.

The big expense of heating your home is in the fuel and not the first cost of your stove. Don't let yourself be persuaded to buy anything but Cole's Original Hot Blast.

Ask for free booklet on "Scientific Combustion," which will show you how to heat your home twice as comfortably at one-half the present cost.

CAUTION See the name "Cole's Hot Blast from Chicago," on the feed door of each stove. None genuine without it.

Arkansas Diamond Boom Explodes as Surprisingly as It Came Into Existence.

PROSPECTORS WORKING THE SHOALS ALONG THE LITTLE MISSOURI FOR DIAMONDS

FIRST SHAFT SUNK INTO THE DIAMOND BEARING STRATA FORMING THE CRATER OF AN EXTINCT VOLCANO

Nashville, Ark., Oct. 2.—The bubble has burst. The boom which for three weeks threatened to make Arkansas famous for its diamonds has exploded. The dreams of wealth are gone. Arkansas has awakened to realize that all is not gold that glitters, and all are not diamonds that sparkle.

Three weeks ago southwestern Arkansas had gone diamond crazy, the cotton crops were spoiling for want of picking, farmers in all directions having abandoned their plows and rushed on to the Little Missouri river, whence came the story of the diamond fields. The harvest fields were "manned" by the women, while the male members of the family were out combing the banks of the Little Missouri in search for wealth.

Every man, woman and child had an alleged diamond mine, and most of them had decided to remove in the immediate future to spend the remainder of their days at the Waldorf-Astoria or some such other noted and expensive hostelry.

Two and one-half miles southwest of here is the crater of an extinct volcano, in which occurs peridotite, the South African diamond bearing rock.

The crater is located on the north shore of the Little Missouri river, the cone rising out of the surrounding level plain to an elevation of about two hundred feet.

Work has been suspended on the Huddleston & Hess properties, which were alleged to be bubbling over with diamonds. There is not a single diamond drill working in the fields at present, all of them having been removed, and it is very uncertain when work will be resumed.

WOULD ALLOW BUT ONE SALOON TO EACH 1,000 PEOPLE

Senator Mattingly Framing Up New Temperance Measure.

Indianapolis, Oct. 2. Senator Ezra Mattingly, who represents Daviess and Pike counties in the upper branch of the state legislature, while here yesterday outlined the provisions of a temperance bill which he will introduce on the first roll call in the next session of the general assembly.

Senator Mattingly was the author of the "thousand-dollar license bill," which created such a furore in the last session and which was defeated only by a narrow margin. He has buckled on his armor and is ready for another battle with the saloon forces. He is going after the liquor folks hammer and tongs in the next session, which, he predicts, from a standpoint of interest and excitement, will make the last session appear pale and insignificant. He called on Miss Mary Stubbs, state statistician, and obtained from her a valuable collection of saloon statistics, some figures which in due season he will present in support of his bill.

The senator made public the essential provisions of his forthcoming bill, as follows:

1. It will fix the cost of a saloon license at $1,000, of which $500 is to be turned over to the local corporation and the balance to the state school fund.

2. It will be impossible, under the provisions of the bill, for any corporation to grant a saloon license if the number of saloons within that corporation already is equal to one saloon for every 1,000 inhabitants.

3. The bill provides for local option for townships and cities, the vote to be taken at a special election. A majority vote will banish all saloons from the township or city for a period of four years.

4. It will be unlawful, under the provisions of the bill, to establish a saloon within 500 feet of a public or parochial school, a public library or a public park.

The senator's bill, as outlined above, will differ radically from the measure which he pushed with such vigor in the last session. The provision that saloons shall not be created in excess of one for every 1,000 inhabitants would have the effect, he says, to reduce the number of saloons in Indianapolis from over 700 to 169. He thinks that thousands of saloons would be exterminated in the state by virtue of that provision alone.

"The anti-saloon movement in Indiana is going forward with tremendous momentum," said Senator Mattingly, "and the persons who are doing the most to promote it are not 'temperance cranks,' but solid, substantial business men."

Newsboy Strives to Achieve Degree of Doctor of Philosophy.

ISAAC DAVIDSON.

New York, Oct. 2.—Given a keen witted Hebrew newsboy who "would rather die ignorant than live ignorant" and to whom most of the honors of earth are comprised in three letters, Ph. D., and you have—Isaac Davidson.

Up at Seventh avenue and 119th street, where this newsboy philosopher student has a stand, they call him "Ike" and "Davey" and "Professor" and half a dozen other names, but all of them familiarly respectful.

Beside his stand are a chair and a book. From half-past four to ten o'clock in the morning and from three to five o'clock in the afternoon, all the time that Davidson is not passing on papers, chucking the neighborhood babies under the chin, doing errands for patrons or kindly exhorting his schoolboy friends to take advantage of their school chances, he has his nose poked in a book. It is always a solid book. He didn't learn his A, B, C's till he was 21, and life for him is too short for trashy reading.

Davidson calculates he is about 33 years old. The thread of his life runs back to obscurity in Homell, Russia, where his parents died before he was old enough to have fixed in his mind even a visual memory of them. He lived by chance—most of the time a slim one. It was chance that let him learn a part of the tailors' trade and he lived by it until his brother in America sent to him a ticket to this country with money enough to buy a few crusts on the way. This was in 1895.

The boy came to America, not because he had a ticket, but because he had heard that in America education was easier to get than in Russia. To him education was and is life. In Russia he had craved the chance to work as a menial so that he might gather a few crumbs of learning from an educated master. Learning was everything; the means of getting it did not count.

Even his natural superabundant optimism could not remain proof against the world as he had found it. Seriously he thought of dying ignorant in preference to living ignorant. An education seemed too far ahead of him. But at this critical juncture Davidson met Edward King, a Scotchman, who is the brother of every man in distress.

King was and is a philosopher of deep learning, a lecturer and, above all, a helper to those who seek knowledge. He noted Davidson's quenchless thirst for education. King, though poor, bought him books, taught him, opened his eyes to the alluring world of literature, and, best of all, gave him of his own companionship.

"It was Mr. King who gave me life; I revere him almost as a god," is King's reward from his pupil's lips.

After that it was smoother sailing for Davidson. In tailor shop and at newsstand he toiled long hours, with a book always at his side, on the chance of being able to steal a few moments for study. His tremendous energy, voraciousness in study, high ideals and keen mind made him many substantial friends.

HUNTINGTON MAN WINS IN KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS

W. P. Hart New Grand Outer Guard After Very Sharp Contest.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 2.—William P. Hart, superintendent of the Huntington city schools, was elected grand outer guard by the Indiana grand lodge, Knights of Pythias, last evening after four ballots had been required to settle the most spirited contest ever seen on the floor of the Indiana grand lodge.

Of the seven candidates who went into the contest Hart's only opponent at the close was John W. Gaither, of New Albany. On the fourth ballot Hart received 240 votes. Gaither got 207 votes. The other candidates for outer guard who started into the contest were Dr. E. H. Brubaker, of New Castle; John W. Harris, of Bedford; David C. Atkinson, of Hammond; Louis H. Johnson, of Crawfordsville, and John W. Crook, of Vincennes.

The balloting for grand lodge officers began at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. There were no contests except for supreme representative and outer guard. The winning candidates for representatives were George W. Powell, of Indianapolis; Frank J. Dunton, of Lagrange, and Charles A. Tindall, of Shelbyville.

Three Hours in Balloting.

The grand lodge spent three hours electing the outer guard. Toward the close of the contest the friends of the different candidates became so enthusiastic that they went down into the street in search of knights who had left the hall and had neglected to return. Many votes were obtained in this way on the last ballot.

Most of the offices were filled without contest. Frank L. Gass, of Muncie, who has held the place of grand vice chancellor, was promoted to grand chancellor. He will succeed Fonce Monyhan, of Orleans. A. J. Lowe, of Greensburg, becomes grand vice chancellor and Arla M. Brown, of Lynn, succeeds to the office of grand prelate. Harry Wade was reelected grand keeper of records and seals without opposition, and W. A. Morris, of Frankfort, retains his old position of grand master of exchequer. W. C. Converse becomes the grand master at arms and John F. Petri, of Terre Haute, receives the office of grand inner guard. John F. Frank, of Alexandria, was chosen grand lodge trustee.

The grand lodge spent yesterday morning listening to reports of officers and in the transaction of routine business. An attempt was made to change the rules of the grand lodge so that the grand vice chancellor shall perform the work of grand instructor and the attempt probably will be successful. A resolution instructing the committee on state of the order to make a favorable report regarding the change was adopted.

The Pythian Sisters.

The Pythian Sisters, who met in Castle hall yesterday, did not complete their work, as they had to give up the lodgeroom at 4:30 o'clock to another organization.

The principal work before the temple was the election of officers. As was expected, Mrs. Elizabeth Kutch, of Terre Haute, was made grand chief. Mrs. Lena King, of Redkey, succeeds Mrs. Kutch as grand senior. Other officers elected were: Grand mistress of records and correspondence, Miss Cora Hood, of Ossian; grand mistress of finance, Mrs. Laura Morris, of Frankfort.

Mrs. Laura Sinclair, of Waterloo, retires as grand chief. Mrs. Sinclair delivered her annual address yesterday morning, discussing the condition of the organization, which she said, was excellent.

BROWN WINS HIS POINT.

Indianapolis, Oct. 2.—In the grand lodge of the Indiana Knights of Pythias Robert A. Brown, former clerk of the supreme court, precipitated a lively fight with a resolution to make the grand vice chancellor the grand instructor of the order. At present the grand chancellor appoints the instructor, whose duties include explaining the secret work of the order to the subordinate lodges, and the instructor serves for compensation in addition to traveling expenses. Brown's resolution was referred to the committee on the condition of the order. This committee made adverse report on it. Mr. Brown spoke warmly then in advocacy of his resolution and moved to send it back to the same committee with instructions to report favorably. He was supported by several members and on vote was successful.

Grand Chancellor Monyhan is expected to announce the appointment of Crate Bowen, of Indianapolis, as a member of the grand tribunal to succeed United States Senator James A. Hemenway, retiring.

The Pythian Sisters today elected their new officers by advancing each of the old officers to a higher grade. Mrs. Elizabeth Kutch, of Terre Haute, becomes grand chief. Mrs. Harriett Fuller, of Knox, was elected grand outer guard; Mrs. Florence Burrell, of Brownstown, was elected grand trustee, and Mrs. Eva Rohbuck, of Wabash, was elected imperial representative.

District Deputies Named.

The following district deputies were appointed by Grand Chancellor Gass: E. J. Morley, Brimfield; F. C. Grishow, W. E. Peck, Remington; D. E. Craig, Young America; W. J. Dillingham, Warsaw; Charles Reed, Hartford City; W. H. Adams, Wabash; Frank A. Files, Fowler; S. M. Best, Jamestown; Blaine H. Ball, Alexandria; S. B. Templin, Winchester; George A. Carr, Greenfield; D. Miller, Terre Haute; T. J. Sare, Bloomington; J. G. King, Shelbyville; P. S. Thompson, Rising Sun; Wm. Naur, Vernon; L. C. Dennis, Salem; Wm. K. Penrod, Loogootee; Wm. Holton, Mount Vernon.

Committees were appointed by Mr. Gass as follows:

Finance—Caleb S. Denny, Indianapolis; J. E. Casey, Greensburg; C. S. Nichols, Lima.

Judiciary—John Lewis, Seymour; Robert Miller, Bloomington; W. J. Buskirk, Paoli.

Posed for Photographs.

With rare good nature he posed for a number of photographs for amateurs and some for publication. In his public statements the bishop referred to the fact that for a century the church in the United States was under the jurisdiction of the bishop of London. Lay delegates to the convention number many well known business men of this section of the country and many of them have taken houses for the three weeks' sessions. Notable among these are J. P. Morgan, the New York financier, who occupies the Rutherford mansion, which he refitted throughout with furnishings and provisions sent from New York. At this mansion there will be a number of entertainments. There are about eight hundred members of the general convention, including the bishops of several dioceses and missionary districts and four clerical and four lay deputies from each of the dioceses and one each from every missionary district.

Negro Question Is Up.

Of all the questions pending in the convention, creating negro bishops is causing the most heated advance discussion. There is a large faction in the convention which will advocate the closing of negro missions and schools and allow the negro communicants to die out or scatter among other religious bodies. Another faction openly advocates the creation of new negro bishops to serve over negro churches, and still others would consecrate negro suffragian bishops to serve under the direction of the white bishop of the diocese, and still another plan is to give the negroes three bishops and let them erect an autonomous church.

The reopening of the discussion on the remarrying of divorced persons is an important feature of the program. Many of the delegates will urge the passage of a more drastic canon, and possibly the prohibition entirely to remarriage of a divorced person by any clergyman of the Episcopal church. Already the question of creating a court of appeals in the church has provoked much discussion of an informal character and the opponents are charging that such a court would be for the trial of heresy charges.

Among other important problems pending are the proposition to divide the United States into provinces and making the office of presiding bishop elective, but the term of office to be for life or until the incumbent reaches 70 years of age.

THOUGHT IT QUININE.

Husband and Wife Dead as Result of Taking Strychnine.

Vluefield, W. Va., Oct. 2.—George Akers and wife, of Oakville, near here, are dead as the result of taking strychnine through mistake. Akers and his wife had been ill and each took good sized doses of what they thought was quinine. The wife lived only a few minutes, but the husband crawled to a neighbor's house and told what disposition should be made of his property. Then he died.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

The Day on Wall Street.

New York, Oct. 2.—There were sharp reactions at the opening in some stocks from the bulge in prices with which yesterday's market closed. St. Paul fell about 1½ points, Canadian Pacific 2⅝, and Amalgamated Copper ¾ point. Prices generally were lower in sympathy. American Cotton Oil rose 1¼ points.

Wide and frequent fluctuations characterized the market, resulting from the heavy covering of the short interest and extensive realizing on rallies. At no time did the market sell lower than the opening and prices ruled well over yesterday's closing at intervals. St. Paul made up its loss and the same was true of practically all the early weak features.

The market fell into neglect and prices were allowed to slip back on large dealings. Bonds were firm.

The market was easy in tone but recessions were small except in Northern Pacific which fell a point. American Woolen preferred also gave way 2½, but United Railways and Investment extended its advance three points.

Pressure against the metal group and the Pacific stocks discouraged buying. The market held off to the lowest of the day. Amalgamated Copper yielded 1⅛ to 58½.

The market closed dull and easy. The rise in the call money rate prompted selling of stocks which extended the decline in St. Paul to 2½. Mexican Central was heavily sold at a decline of 2½. Delaware & Hudson lost 1⅝. Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, St. Louis Southwestern, Missouri, Kansas & Texas and Pressed Steel Car 1. National Biscuit and Southern Railway preferred 2. Westinghouse Electric 3. Chicago & Alton and Sugar rose 1.

Tell Them You Know!

You may tell your friends, on our "say-so," that when they buy a package of the genuine Arbuckles' Ariosa Coffee they get the best of the coffee trade.

No coffee of equal quality can be sold in this town for the same price, whether it be sold out of a bag or a bin, or under some romantic trade-mark. You may tell them you know and that Arbuckle Brothers, the greatest coffee dealers in the world, will stand for it.

SHOP AND RAIL

Day's Happenings in the Industrial World

WILL ESTABLISH STANDARD.

Committee on Rails to Meet This Week for That Purpose.

Another meeting of the committee on steel rails of the American Railway association will be held in New York this week to complete the report on specifications for rails for 1908 delivery. G. L. Peck, of Pittsburg, general manager of the Pennsylvania lines west, is chairman of the committee. Following this meeting there will be a joint conference of railroad officials and representatives of steel rail manufacturers. It is expected that the committee at this gathering will be able to arrive at a satisfactory conclusion.

It was said yesterday that many of the larger railroads are anxious to have this question settled, as they want to place orders for new rails to be delivered next year. It is stated, however, that no contracts will be awarded until the committee representing the association and the manufacturers agree as to the specifications. It was stated semi-officially yesterday that the railroads do not object to the improved types of rails proposed by the steel makers, but they do object to the higher prices to be asked for them. Heavier rails will naturally involve larger expenditures on the part of the railroads, but the increased life of the heavier rails, it is maintained by the manufacturers, will more than offset the additional cost.

Final action on the subject of new types will be taken at a general meeting of the railroad and steel rail company representatives to be held some time next month. The committee representing the railroads met last week and discussed proposed changes in the type of rails, but the report will not be made public until the committee meets the manufacturers this week. At the general meeting to be held next month representatives of all the larger railroad systems in the country will be present.

NEW ENGINE IS A FLYER.

"Fat Anna" Makes Up 57 Minutes Lost Time With Heavy Train.

No. 7067, the big experimental engine known among the railway men as "Fat Anna," is fast gaining favor with the men in the transportation department, though she was looked upon as a failure when she made her debut in society of flyers on the Western division several months ago. For a long time Fat Anna hauled fast freight and an occasional passenger train over the line, but a week ago she was given a regular run with trains 9 and 18, between Fort Wayne and Chicago and she is "making good." Last night this mammoth engine took No. 9 to Chicago, making up fifty-seven minutes of lost time in the run. The train was composed of ten heavily laden cars, is scheduled high and all things considered the run is considered one of the best of the season.

THIRTY-SEVEN YEARS IN SHOPS.

Today is the anniversary of the birth of George Thompson and the anniversary of the beginning of his service at the Bass foundry, where he is employed as a car wheel moulder. Mr. Thompson will not divulge the date of his birth, but is less reticent concerning his service at the shops. Thirty-seven years ago he became an apprentice in the car wheel shop and has been employed there constantly ever since. He is stout and hearty and has many more years of service before him. John W. Thompson, a son of the moulder and a machinist at the Bass shops, celebrated the thirty-second anniversary of his birth yesterday by working as usual. Like his father, John learned his trade at the Bass shops and has been employed there since the close of the apprenticeship term.

KREISHER REACHES HOME.

James P. Kreisher, the Nickel Plate baggageman, who disappeared last May and was located in Kansas City last week, passed through the city last night, accompanied by his wife, on his way to his home in Bellevue. Mr. Kreisher was suffering from an accident of a year ago when he left Chicago last May and has not yet fully recovered. He explained his absence as being a desire to get where he was not known because all of his friends had turned against him. He walked out of Chicago and until found in Kansas City, had been walking about every since. He says he walked through Wisconsin, Iowa, Kansas and Missouri. It will be some weeks before Mr. Kreisher will be able to resume work.

RETURNS TO HIS TRADE.

John Ryan is again at work at the pipefitter's trade after an absence of six or eight years. He took a position with Foreman Louis Neuroth at the Wabash shops this morning. Mr. Ryan was employed at the Pennsylvania shops several years, resigning on account of failing health and engaging in the saloon business. Another man to resume work at his trade is Wilbur T. Marks, a machinist, who also took a position at the Wabash shops this morning. Mr. Marks quit that shop a year or two ago and embarked in the restaurant business at Albion. A few days ago he disposed of his restaurant and this morning took up his old trade. Mr. Marks was employed in the Pennsylvania shops for several years before going to the Wabash.

TO LECTURE ON AIR BRAKES.

The Men's club of Trinity church will listen to a discourse on air brakes at the church this evening. The lecture will be delivered by A. B. Seroczynski, of the Wabash, an expert in air brake mechanism and well informed otherwise. Mr. Seroczynski will use a number of charts and sectional parts of air brake apparatus to illustrate his lecture and no doubt it will be very instructive and interesting. With railway and traction men air brake construction, care and use are very important questions and no man is better qualified to lecture on the subject than Mr. Seroczynski, who has been connected with that department in railway work for a number of years.

RECORD FREIGHT MOVEMENT.

Reports compiled by the Pennsylvania Railroad company show that the freight car movement on the main line between Pitsburg and Philadelphia on Sunday was larger than on any other day in the history of the company, when 8,630 cars passed Lewistown Junction, one of the points at which counts were made. On September 28 and 29, the movement amounted to 15,402 cars. The past previous record, 8,268, was made on May 16, last. For the week ending midnight September 28, the total freight car movement past Lewistown Junction was 41,332, an average of 6,000 cars a day.

CARMEN HAVE OPEN MEETING.

Union No. 379, Brotherhood of Carmen, held the second of a series of open meetings last night, which was well attended. It was announced that one of the grand officers would be present and address the meeting, but pressing business elsewhere prevented and the speakers last night were William D. Maxwell, of the Carpenters' union, and John Werkman, of the Barbers' union. Each advocated unionism and urged all eligible men to join the Carmen. It is proposed to keep these meetings semi-monthly through the winter and the next one will be held October 15 in the hall at the corner of Calhoun and Berry streets.

CHESTER GORDON HURT.

Chester R. Gordon, shop shipping clerk of the Wabash, sustained some painful injuries and came near being killed at 10 o'clock this morning. While going down the yards he grabbed hold of a passing freight car and a moment later was struck by a switch stand and knocked from the car. Luckily no bones were broken, but his hips, body and legs were badly bruised and there may be some slight internal injuries. Mr. Gordon was attended by Dr. Kaadt and later sent to his home, where he will probably be confined a few days.

Charles Kikley, the engineer at the Pennsylvania power plant who was injured several days ago, is on the streets and is making rapid progress towards recovery. He seems to suffer most now as a result of the shoulder and body bruises and is not bothered at all by the scalp wound. The engine, which was the cause of Mr. Kikley's injuries, has been repaired and was put in service last night.

A STARTLING PROPHECY

But One That Is Based on Solid Facts.

The New York Independent states editorially: "The musical instrument generally known by the name of the Pianola has been recognized by the lay and professional mind alike as a serious and permanent musical instrument. It seems to be probable that in a few years no piano will be made without the roll mechanism as an adjunct."

The Reference Here is To THE PIANOLA PIANO

The time has passed to speculate upon the future of the Pianola Piano. It is here today as the most successful innovation in musical instruments of modern times.

There is nothing doubtful about its standing, for in thousands of homes it has supplanted the old-style piano and its popularity has extended all over the world, even into countries where no other American piano is heard of. Abroad, it has been purchased by Royalty, and in this country by eminent persons whose names are household words.

The musical trade is fully posted on the great and growing demand for the Pianola Piano, and all sorts of imitations and substitutes are now offered. Remember, then, that it is the Pianola Piano that has created the present revolution in the piano industry, and that no instrument is a genuine Pianola Piano unless it is made by the Aeolian Company.

There are four pianos, and only four pianos, that are made as Pianola Pianos—the Weber, the Steck, the Wheelock, and the Stuyvesant. Each of these is a standard in its class, each represents the highest order of musical value obtainable at anything like its price.

FLAGS HUNG AT SERVICE IN ARMY CHAPEL

New York, Oct. 1.—With commingled military pomp and religious ceremony the worn out colors of the Twelfth Infantry were hung in the chapel of St. Cornelius the Centurion, on Governor's Island, September 29, in the presence of a gathering that filled the little Gothic building. Bishop Potter presided at the religious ceremonies, and General Grant was present as the army's highest representative.

From above the arches on both sides of the aisle in the chapel depend many colored banners that were transferred to the new building when the old chapel was abandoned last year after fifty years of service. Several of them date back to the Mexican war, and there is one tattered guidon that was carried by Santa Ana's men at Monterey. A black and yellow dragon flag tells the exploits of the army at Pekin in the Boxer uprising, and shields and tablets on the walls of the nave commemorate many other achievements at arms.

There is no special interest attaching to the flags placed in position yesterday, but the occasion was the first in the history of the United States army when such an incident was accomplished by a religious ceremony. Bishop Potter brought the idea back from England, and when the Twelfth's flags that had been in service in the Philippines were so worn out that new ones had to be provided, it was decided to establish the custom here.

OLD RULES BAR EQUAL RACE FOR TROPHY SAYS LIPTON

Irish Yachtsman Claims Contest Impossible Under Rules.

Dublin, Oct. 2. Sir Thomas Lipton has again expressed his regret at the refusal of the New York Yacht club to accept his challenge to a race for the American cup, and in a lengthy letter to the Royal Irish Yacht club he sets forth his reasons in detail. The committee of the club met last night.

"While recognizing the responsibilities of the members of the club as trustees of the American cup," writes Sir Thomas, "it might be pointed out that when the deed of gift was drawn up the developments which have taken place in regard to the modern rating of yachts could not have been foreseen.

Handicap Is Too Great.

"I have already competed three times under the conditions of the deed of gift with the modifications arranged under the mutual agreement clause, and my personal experience of these contests is such that I consider that the handicap of having to design a vessel of the type which has been gradually developed during recent years, and which shall be of sufficiently light construction, yet capable of being taken with safety on its own bottom across the Atlantic, entirely precludes the possibility of competing on equal terms with a vessel which is not compelled to make this ocean voyage.

"My present challenge was drawn up with a view to comply with the principal conditions of the deed of gift and at the same time encourage the type of vessel which has been approved and adopted by the New York Yacht club.

Regrets Loss of Race.

"I recognize that the members of this club are well within their rights in deciding as they have done, yet I am sorry that they have not been able, under the mutual agreement clause, to meet me in my wish to have a race under their own universal rule, which, in my opinion, encourages a wholesome and desirable type of yacht.

"In view of their attitude, however, there is nothing left but to abandon the idea of a contest for the present, although I am always prepared, under mutually satisfactory conditions, to arrange a race."

The committee of the Royal Irish Yacht club, in cabling its formal acknowledgment of the refusal of the challenge, expressed regret of the committee and all the members of the club that a race could not be arranged.

HEIRS SEEK MAN'S SAVINGS.

Thrifty Farmer May Lose Fruits of Thirty-two Years' Labor.

Warsaw, Ind., Oct. 2.—The work of thirty-two years may be lost to Franklin Deardorf of near Warsaw as the result of a suit filed yesterday in the Kosciusko circuit court. At the time of the death of George Deardorf in 1875 it was agreed by the heirs that his estate should be controlled by the widow during her lifetime. The farm of 200 acres was worked by Franklin Deardorf, a son. Up to the time of his mother's recent death he accumulated a personal estate valued at $5,000, and the other heirs have begun an action in an endeavor to deprive him of the money and have it divided.

W. H. Polsdorfer and family will leave tomorrow for a few weeks' stay in Millers City, Ohio.

Ed Seboch was among the Fort Wayne people who attended the dedication of the McKinley monument at Canton Monday.

SOUND TEETH.

It's hard for clean teeth—perfectly clean teeth—to decay. To keep the teeth clean is to preserve them. A brush and water alone are insufficient—something that will destroy the germs that cause decay will be required. This help is in

The Dr. Brook's Toothpowder.

This is an antiseptic preparation that kills the germs. It whitens and cleanses the teeth, hardens the gums and keeps the breath sweet. It is put up in sprinkle top bottles and is delightfully flavored. Because we make it costs only 25c for a large-sized bottle.

"What the people want is Federal Supervision of Savings Banks." This was the statement made a day or two since in the Convention of The American Bankers' Association at Atlantic City. The speaker was a prominent banker from Connecticut, and he was discussing the plan of the Attorney General to have congress establish Postal Savings Banks. The man from Connecticut was right. This Federal supervision is the strength of the Savings Department of The German American National Bank of Fort Wayne. In this department 4 per cent interest is paid on money left four months and around it are thrown all the safe guards of the National Banking System.

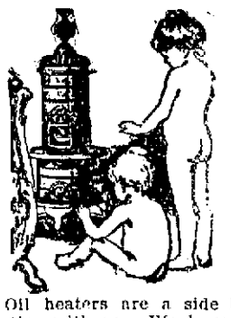
If its a good thing Seavey's have it

CERTAINLY



Some people who don't know will tell you Barler Heaters are high priced. It's because they have heard Barler Heaters are high quality and consider a high price the natural sequence. Nobody else makes an oil heater that costs as much as the BARLER NO. 12, but nobody else makes one as large or with No. 12 special construction for producing and circulating heat. It's the BARLER Patent.

We have other sizes and patterns to suit all demands and every one is as carefully made as if it were the only one.

Oil heaters are a side line with most dealers. They are a serious matter with us. We have made a success of them. Can we help you keep warm?
